J. H. KERR,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2931A.—The 1st May 1917.—The following is substituted for Appendix IX to the rules for the Departmental Examination of Assistant Magistrates and others, dated the 14th September 1912 :—

APPENDIX IX.

Rules for the training of Assistant Magistrates, Deputy Magistrates and Sub-Deputy Magistrates.

1. As soon as any junior officer to whom these rules apply is posted to his district, the District officer should prepare a programme showing, with reference to the work in his office, the periods which the junior officer will spend in the several departments. Each junior officer should receive a copy of the programme of his work, and the programmes should be entered in a register.

2. The minimum period of probation for probationers of the Provincial Executive Service and of the Subordinate Civil Service will be twelve months. Probationers shall, during their probationary service, be trained so as to get as much experience as possible in Magisterial and Revenue Courts with a view to their acquiring a knowledge of official routine. During this period they should study the Codes and the Acts to enable them to go up for their departmental examinations as soon as they are allowed. For probationers who are appointed in the ordinary way in the autumn, this will be in October or November of the succeeding year. But officers who are appointed at other times will not be allowed to go up until twelve months have elapsed from the date of their appointment.

3. Assistant Magistrates, who have not passed the Higher Standard in law, and Deputy and Sub-Deputy Magistrates, who have not passed the Lower Standard in law, will be required to prepare an intelligent and precise record of six cases tried by a first class Magistrate and three defended Sessions trials. The cases to be recorded should be selected by the District Magistrate for the purpose and should not include appellate cases. The record must be prepared from notes taken by the officer in Court as the trial proceeds and he must be present in Court throughout the trial of the case which he is reporting. The record should consist of :—

Magisterial work.

- (1) a summary of the evidence, with notes on it, showing its admissibility and applicability to the offence charged.
- (2) notes on the procedure with references to the codes, e. g., to such matters as the rules as to cross-examination, re-examination drawing up of charge and taking the statement of the accused.

It should be understood that value will be given to notes intelligently based on annotated editions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Penal Code and Evidence Act.

4. The District Magistrate will forward these records to the Legal Remembrancer, who will, at any time before the date fixed for the departmental examination, send a statement of his opinion thereon to the Central Examination Committee for consideration and submission to Government with the result of each half-yearly examination. The District Magistrate should keep himself informed of the progress which is made in the preparation of these records so as to ensure that they are punctually submitted, and should examine the first record of each officer to see that it has been prepared on the right lines.

5. If, in the opinion of the Legal Remembrancer, an officer has once prepared the record satisfactorily, he will not be required to do so again, even although he may not be adjudged to have passed in Law.

6. Rules 3, 4 and 5 will be applicable to the cases of probationers after the first twelve months of their probation if they intend to appear for the departmental examination in Law by the Lower Standard before they are appointed substantively pro tempore.

7. Probationers should, during the period of their training in the Magisterial Department, attend the Court of a first class Magistrate, selected by the District Magistrate, during the trial of criminal cases. They should be required to prepare a full, complete and careful record of the depositions of the witnesses and a concise summary of the evidence given. They should also be required to take notes of the arguments of the pleaders and discuss the application of the law to the facts of the cases reported by them, and to write a decision. This should be done in at least six defended cases.

8. The records of the cases prepared under rule 7 should be submitted by the probationer to the trying Magistrate, who should examine them with a view to seeing that they are being intelligently prepared. He should point out any obvious mistakes. The records should also be occasionally examined by the District Magistrate, Additional District Magistrate or the Joint-Magistrate. The preparation of the records prescribed in rule 7 is additional to the preparation of the records prescribed in rule 3, and should be completed during the first three months of probation; the records prepared under rule 7 will not be utilised for the purpose of rule 3.

9. It is not necessary for Assistant Magistrates to prepare the records prescribed in rule 7. After attending the Court of a selected first class Magistrate for a week, they should be given simple cases to try.

10. Junior officers may be deputed for miscellaneous enquiries in regard to criminal cases when the inspection of a locality or other matter is important, and they may be examined in Court as to their reports. They may also be deputed to conduct specific enquiries in chaukidari matters and to preside at the payment of chaukidars; before doing this they should make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the rules. For a period not usually exceeding one month, they may be placed in subordinate charge of the Chaukidari Department in order to learn the office procedure. They should also study the miscellaneous work of the Magistrate's office.

Revenue work.

11. All junior officers are required to undergo a training in treasury work, and for that purpose should be placed in charge of the district treasury, under the general supervision of the Deputy Collector ordinarily in charge, for a period of not less than six weeks continuously, and must obtain a certificate from the Collector to the effect that they have duly attended to and satisfactorily discharged the duties of Treasury Officer for the prescribed period.

12. Probationers should not be required to work as clerks, or to write up registers; they should, however, prepare notes or précis of cases and draft letters. They should see all the papers which go up to the Deputy Collector, and the Deputy Collector should utilise their services in any way that he can in connection with the cases. The Deputy Collector should, at the same time, see that the probationer makes himself acquainted with the law and rules on the subject, and should from time to time require him to prepare a note explaining the procedure or the reason for any action taken in a particular case. In departments the work of which involves the keeping of accounts or registers, probationers should check and initial entries made in registers, check the accounts and examine the preparation of returns. They should attend inspections by the gazetted officers in charge of departments and by the Collector, and should assist during those inspections.

13. At the end of a probationer's period of training in any department, or under any Deputy Collector, the Deputy Collector should record a note in the register referred to in rule 1, stating how the probationer has attended to his duties and a general opinion of his industry and ability. This should be shown to the Collector.

14. Probationers should keep a diary and record briefly the work done by them day by day. The diary should be submitted to the Deputy Collector under whom they are working for the time, and should be seen by the Collector.

15. Junior officers should not take up survey and settlement work before they are deputed to the annual training camp. The rules for the regulation of this camp are contained in the Survey and Settlement Manual.

16. The programmes prepared under rule 1 should make provision for short periods to be spent in learning the nature of the work which is done in the following departments:—

- | | |
|------------------------|-------------------|
| (1) Tausi. | (6) Munshikhana. |
| (2) Cess. | (7) Certificates. |
| (3) Record-room. | (8) Partition. |
| (4) Land Registration. | (9) Nazarat. |
| (5) English office. | (10) Income-tax. |
| (11) Land Acquisition. | | and junior officers should be required to study the manuals concerned while they are engaged in those departments.

All junior officers should be put in charge for a short period of the Copying Department of the Collectorate Record-room.

They should be required to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the rules for inspecting the accounts of Government estates and, in districts in which there are suitable estates, to inspect accounts according to the rules and to check arrear lists under the supervision of the Khas Mahal Deputy Collector.

In the case of Wards' estates of which the accounts are sent to headquarters for audit, their services may be utilised for short periods in assisting to audit the accounts.

17. The District Officer should occasionally take junior Assistant Magistrates with him ~~on~~ his tours, but not for such long periods as will interfere with their preparation for the departmental examinations. During these tours the District Officer will find opportunities for instructing them in the several branches of the administration of a district. Touring.

Junior officers should not ordinarily be sent out on tour for long periods, but their services may with advantage be utilised for distributing and collecting agricultural loans, for making local enquiries in probate cases, for assisting the Land Acquisition Deputy Collector in making local payments, for enquiries about agricultural calamities, and for inspecting accounts in Government estates.

18. All junior officers should make themselves familiar with the appearance and the names of local crops, as well as of the times of sowing and harvesting. They should also, as far as possible, study the elements of agriculture. For this purpose they should all read Mr. MacKenna's "Agriculture in India" (1915), and afterwards, when they have time, Wallace's "Indian Agriculture." Other scientific works on agriculture, both general and Indian, will be found in the district libraries. Agriculture

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4—The 1st May 1917.—The following draft of (1) revised rules and (2) revised schedules of rates of tolls, which the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Midnapore Canal, and its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of those portions of Bengal Government Notification No. 98, dated the 4th April 1893, as amended by subsequent notifications, and of Notification No. 3, dated the 17th May 1906, which relate to the Midnapore Canal, with branch to Naraingar, is published, as required by section 12 of that Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th June 1917, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel entering or passing along the Midnapore Canal, or its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on this line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

- (a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.
- (b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.
- (c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.
- (d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c), is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along the said line of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the line of navigation for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which it is granted, and at the station from which it is issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	... One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	... Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	... Eight annas per 100 per day.

Is provided as follows:—

- (1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in the canal or its branch by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.
- (2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal or its branch.
- (3) Exemption from payment of demurrage or tolls may be granted to vessels while waiting for cargo or for any other purpose at the places on the Midnapore Canal fixed by the Superintending Engineer for such purposes which include Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal, Panskura to Dainan. Such exemption will not extend over a period of more than three months in each case.

If the person in charge of any vessel, on the completion of a voyage or on entering the canal, wishes his vessel to remain in any of the free ghats in the line of navigation he shall give up his toll ticket at the nearest toll station, specifying the particular ghat where he wishes to keep his vessel and shall take out a fresh ticket from such toll station before leaving such ghat. On failure to comply with this provision he shall be liable to demurrage charge as provided in this rule, which shall be recoverable as toll.

- (4) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

- (a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds—(from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed); ,

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona-fide loading or unloading, or both, in the canals to—

	Days,
Cargo boats from 10 to 100 maunds of measurement ...	5
" " 110 to 200 " " ...	8
" " 210 to 300 " " ...	10
" " 310 to 400 " " ...	12
" " 410 to 500 " " ...	14
of over 500 maunds—for every additional
100 maunds. ...	3
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards ...	5

9. Vessels are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise at the Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal—Panskura to Dainan; but they are allowed to be loaded and unloaded only at the Kayali ghats and the free ghats in the 6th Reach. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these rules, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

The places at which vessels can be ordinarily loaded or unloaded in any Reach of the line of navigation are notified at the locks in the Reach, and no vessel without the previous permission of the Toll Collector (who should without delay inform the Executive Engineer of his permission having been granted), can be allowed to load or unload at any other place. Should any vessel be loaded or unloaded at any place other than those notified and without the said permission having been obtained, the person in charge of the vessel and the consignor or consignee of the goods shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 for each offence.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows:—

Ulubaria.—Between the Ulubaria Lock and the Banspati Khal.

Bansbaria.—Between the Bansbaria Lock and the Damodar river.

Kultapara.—Between the Kultapara Lock and the Damodar river.

Kantapukur.—Between the Kantapukur Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Dainan.—Between the Dainan Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura east Lock and the Cossye river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura west Lock and the Cossye river.

Mohunpur.—Between the Mohunpur Lock and the Cossye river.

No boat will be allowed, under any circumstances, to drop an anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock entrance or in the canal, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; but straw boats of 20 feet width including overhangings (the overhangings beyond 19 feet being entirely straw) may be passed through the locks of the Main Canal; also no vessel exceeding 50 feet in length and 10½ feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Naraingar Distributary.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along the canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or the right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in the canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. No steamer passing any vessel must proceed at a greater speed than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and attendants.—Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. No towing rope of a greater length than 100 feet is to be used in the canal. The throwing of cinders into the canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation, or of a part of it, may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the "Canals Act," undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner prescribed in section 9 of the Act.

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred, any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of the abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours: provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the Act.

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in these rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canal and its branch may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency they may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

Orders and Notifloations by the Government of India.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Finance Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 21st April 1917, is republished for general information.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

PUBLIC DEPT.

Simla, the 20th April 1917.

No. 868-F.—In their Finance Department's Notification No. 745-F., dated the 6th of April 1917, the Government of India published the details of two schemes which had been devised to assist Government servants in subscribing to the Indian War Loan by means of monthly deductions from their pay. The first scheme, which enables the monthly payments to be spread over 10 months, was made available to all Government servants throughout India; but the second scheme, in which advantage was taken of an offer of the Bank of Bengal to prolong the period of payment to two years, was at the outset confined to officers serving in the Bengal Presidency and in certain other Provinces in which the Bank of Bengal operates. The Government of India have now much pleasure in announcing that the Bank of Bombay and the Bank of Madras have agreed to make available to Government servants employed in the marginally* noted areas the same facilities for subscribing to the War Loan by means of 24 monthly deductions from their pay as are afforded by the Bank of Bengal's scheme. Accordingly the Government of India, on a request from an officer, who desires to subscribe in this way to the Indian War Loan will deduct from his pay and pay to the Bank the amount due each month for repayment of the Bank's advance. The terms on which advances will be made by the Banks of Bombay and Madras are in all respects similar to those of the Bank of Bengal scheme, as described in Appendix B to the notification of the 6th of April 1917; and, as stated in paragraph 3 of that notification, the scheme will be alternative and not in addition to the Government scheme described in Appendix A.

2. It is also notified that the Bank of Bengal scheme is applicable to officers serving in the United Provinces, Assam and Delhi in addition to the Provinces noted in the margin of paragraph 3 of the notification of the 6th of April.

J. B. BRUNYATE,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

The following notifications, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 21st April 1917, are republished for general information.

CALCUTTA, the 27th April 1917.

N.B.—[The scale of fees as given in this Prospectus is payable by students admitted to the College from the beginning of the Session 1916-17 and will not apply to old students who will continue to pay the existing rate of fees.]

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF BENGAL.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF STUDENTS SEEKING ADMISSION.

1. Three classes of students are admitted for study in the College—

- (a) "Regular," or those who enter for the full University course.
- (b) "Casual," or those who enter for selected or isolated subjects.
- (c) "Military Class" (only students of European or Eurasian parentage are admitted to this class). (See separate Prospectus for Military students.)

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the—

- (a) "Regular Class" is the I. Sc. pass certificate of the Calcutta University.

NOTE.—In 1917 and 1918 only, in addition to the I. Sc. pass certificate, the I. A. pass certificate of the Calcutta University and, in the case of the six scholarship-holders nominated by the Government of Bihar and Orissa, the Matriculation Pass Certificate will be accepted as a minimum qualification for admission.

- (b) "Casual"—The Matriculation or Entrance Pass Certificate of the Calcutta or other Indian Universities, or the pass certificate of an examination equivalent to the Matriculation or Entrance Examination.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in his office before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective Provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees on or before the 10th June, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	1	0
Total	83	8

5. The number of regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

Of the total number to be admitted, twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa and six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a). In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who after 1918, must possess the I. Sc. pass certificate. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fees before the 15th May, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

7. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

8. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June, and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

9. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Re. 1 to the Medical College Athletic Club along with the fees for the Summer term.

10. Muhammadan students are required to pay the entrance fee of Rs. 20 and half the annual College fee in two instalments, the remaining half fees being charged to the Mohsin Fund.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after their failure at the Preliminary Scientific M. B. and at the First M. B. Examinations shall pay Rs. 80 for the whole session in one instalment by the 1st June.

12. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each such subject including lectures and practical classes.

13. The fees for Casual students or for Certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study or for those issued to Military students shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of Hospital Practice.

14. Students who fail at the Final M. B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment by the 1st June :—

	Rs.
For one subject	25
„ two subjects	50
„ three or more subjects	75

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under Rule 12 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him, had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 12 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. No fees are payable by female students.

19. Holders of a stipendiary scholarship of a value less than Rs. 20 per mensem are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold a scholarship. All other scholarship-holders shall pay the same fees as Regular students.

20. The following are the curricula of the College :—

REGULAR STUDENTS.

First-year Class.

Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology and Practical classes in all these subjects, to be followed by Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination of the Calcutta University and the Scholarship and Medal Examination of the College.

RECONSTITUTION OF THE LOCAL COMMITTEES AT CALCUTTA AND DACCA TO ADVISE INDIAN STUDENTS PROCEEDING TO ENGLAND.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION BRANCH.

DARJEELING, THE 25TH APRIL 1917.

RESOLUTION—No. 26T.-Edn.

IN Resolution No. 4352, dated the 23rd November 1909, the Government of Bengal appointed a Standing Local Committee for the province as then constituted, in order to assist Indian students proceeding to England and to co-operate with the Central Bureau and Advisory Committee in London, which had been established for the purpose of furnishing information to Indian students in England and giving them and their parents all possible assistance. This Committee was established in Calcutta with local correspondents in each division of the province of Bengal as then constituted.

A similar Committee was established at Dacca by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in Resolution No. 2275P., dated the 11th October 1909, with corresponding members in the various districts. Since the territorial redistribution of 1912, the Government of Bihar and Orissa and the Administration of Assam have established separate Committees for those provinces, and the Committees at Calcutta and Dacca have continued to work for the districts of West Bengal and Eastern Bengal, respectively.

2. The Governor in Council has carefully considered whether a single Provincial Committee should be appointed in place of the two Committees at Calcutta and Dacca, and has decided that those Committees should be retained. Their work has scarcely diminished since 1912, except in so far as it has been affected by the War, and it is desirable that there should be a Local Committee in close touch with students in the districts of Eastern Bengal. At the same time, he considers that the time has come to reconstitute the Committees. Not only have several members either died or left the province, but experience has shown that the Committees as now constituted are unwieldy, the number of members appointed to the Calcutta and the Dacca Committee being 29 and 15, respectively. The Governor in Council is of opinion that it will be of advantage to limit the number of appointments to be made to each Committee somewhat strictly. He has accordingly appointed the following Committees :—

CALCUTTA COMMITTEE.

The Hon'ble Justice Sir Ashutosh Mukharji, K.T., C.S.I., D.L., D.Sc., President.

The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, C.I.E., M.A., LL.D.,
Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University.

Mr. C. S. Paterson, Secretary, Boys' Branch, Young Men's Christian Association, Calcutta.

The Hon'ble Mr. J. G. Cumming, C.S.I., C.I.E., I.C.S., B.A. (Oxon.).

Mr. P. C. Mahalanabis, B.A. (Cantab.).

∴ J. C. Coyajee, B.A. (Cantab.), LL.B. (Bom.), Professor, Presidency College, Calcutta, Secretary.

DACCA COMMITTEE.

The Commissioner, Dacca Division, President.

The Principal, Dacca College.

Mr. B. M. Sen, M.A., Professor, Dacca College.

Shams-ul-Ulama Abu Nasr Muhammad Waheed, M.A., Principal, Dacca Madrasah.

Rai Lalit Mohan Chatarji Bahadur, M.A., Principal, Jagannath College, Dacca.

Rai B. N. Das Bahadur, M.A., B.Sc. (Lond.), Professor, Dacca College, Secretary.

3. It has also been decided to make a change in the areas for which each Committee is responsible, and in future the Calcutta Committee will deal with the Presidency, Burdwan and Rajshahi Divisions, and the Dacca Committee with the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy be forwarded to the Government of India, the Government of Bihar and Orissa, and the Assam Administration.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and to each member of the Committee for information and guidance.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET ESTIMATE OF INCOME AND EXPENDITURE OF THE HOWRAH BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1916-17.

No. 1028 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 25th April 1917.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter from the Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, No. 11773, dated the 29th March 1917, submitting the Budget Estimate of Income and Expenditure of the Howrah Bridge for the year 1917-1918.

Receipts.—The receipts for the year 1917-18 are now estimated at Rs. 3,28,993 as against the Budget estimate of Rs. 1,85,338, and the Revised estimate of Rs. 1,78,993 for 1916-1917. The principal items of increase are :—

- (a) Rs. 7,055 on account of rent of Howrah Dock land, and
- (b) Rs. 1,50,000 on account of receipts from re-imposition, with effect from 1st April 1917, of the terminal tax on all grains and seeds booked to and from Howrah by the East Indian Railway. This re-imposition was the result of the decision arrived at by Government on the recommendations of the Committee recently appointed by Government to examine the finances of the Howrah Bridge.

Expenditure.—The total estimate of expenditure for 1917-18 aggregates Rs. 4,58,312, viz., Rs. 2,85,158 for ordinary expenditure and Rs. 1,73,154 for outlay on account of renewals of the Bridge structure, resulting in a deficit of Rs. 1,29,319.

2. The Governor in Council approves the Budget estimates of receipts and expenditure under section 21 of the Howrah Bridge Act. His Excellency in Council anticipates that the nett deficit of Rs. 7,71,471, on 31st March 1918, will gradually be worked off in succeeding years by the additional revenue accruing from the re-imposition of the terminal tax on all grains and seeds booked to and from Howrah by the East Indian Railway, and that in the near future there will be no further abnormal drain on the Bridge Reserve Fund due to extensive renewals.

By order of the Governor in Council.

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The balance, viz., Rs. 13,200, is in Government Securities. The annual interest on the capital amounts to Rs. 37,079, which is kept in the Bank of Bengal. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 15,961-13-10, and closed with a balance of Rs. 14,506-11-9.

III. Election to vacancies, etc.—(1) The annual election of foundationers was held on Wednesday, the 12th January. For the 12 vacancies advertised, 48 applications were received, and 12 girls were elected on the recommendation of a sub-committee consisting of the Ven'ble the Archdeacon of Calcutta, the Rev. Father A. Van de Mergel, the Rev. D. H. Manley, Mr. James Wyness and Mr. A. Mercer. Of the girls elected, 4 were placed at the Loreto Convent, Entally (2 in the Boarding School and 2 in the Orphanage), 2 in St. Agnes' School, Howrah, 2 in the Calcutta Girls' High School, 2 in the Pratt Memorial School, 1 in La Martiniere and 1 in the Calcutta Free School.

(2) Of the 18 girls withdrawn during the year, 16 had attained the age of 17 years, the limit ordinarily allowed under the rules, and 2 were removed because they failed to return to school after their leave had expired.

(3) Of the girls who had been withdrawn during the preceding year, and in respect of whom reports have been received during the year under review, one girl, after passing the Higher Cambridge Local Examination, is being trained for a teacher; another girl is learning shorthand and typing, and commercial subjects. One girl is employed as a typist in a chemist's firm while another is employed in a printing press. One girl has been apprenticed to a hosiery firm, and is reported to be giving satisfaction; while another has been employed as a teacher in a railway school. One girl has been married and another is reported to be engaged to be married.

(4) In order to help the girls to find employment when their time comes to leave school, the Governors have prepared and issued to all schools in which Bruce wards are being educated a pamphlet showing particulars of appointments open to girls educated in India.

(5) At the close of the year there were 132 girls on the foundation against 138 in the previous year. They were distributed as follows:—

Loreto Convent, Entally	{ Boarding School 23 Orphanage .. 22 }	... 45
Calcutta Girls' High School	31

St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kaliupong	3
St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong	1
Dow Hill School Kurseong	1

Total		... 132

(6) The following table affords particulars as to class and denomination of the foundationers at the close of the year:—

Class	Roman Catholics.	Church of England.	Non-conformists.	Total.
1. Orphans, or deserted by their parents	17	9	10	36
2. Fatherless, or motherless, or deserted - by their fathers or mothers.	38	27	18	83
3. Those who have both parents alive ...	5	3	5	13
Total	60	39	33	132

(7) The health of the girls were on the whole satisfactory; no cases of serious illness having been reported during the year.

IV. Education and maintenance.—(1) The Governors are anxious that their wards should not be allowed to drift until they leave school, and they have accordingly asked the school authorities to let them know with reference to each girl who attains the age of 15, what her capacities and prospects are; and to advise them in the light of these, how the last two years or so of their school-life should be spent to the best advantage.

(2) The Governors having found that the present rates of fees allowed for Bruce wards, which were fixed many years ago, are now insufficient to cover all their requirements, have raised the amount from Rs. 16 to Rs. 25 a month each, in an elementary school, and from Rs. 21-8 to Rs. 35 a month each, in a secondary school. The revised rates will not, however, come into operation until 1st January 1919, as owing to lack of funds, it will first be necessary to reduce the number of wards gradually, as vacancies occur, till the required number has been reached. It was further decided that in future, wards should ordinarily be sent to, and retained in, certain specified elementary schools; and that about the age of 12, exceptional children may, with the special consent of the Governors, be transferred to certain specified secondary schools.

(3) Five girls were sent up for the Cambridge Local Examinations held in December 1915, of whom 3 passed, viz., 1 the Senior and 2 the Junior.

Eight girls were presented for the Elementary School Certificate Examination, of whom 6 passed. Several girls have also been sent up for the Cambridge Local Examinations held in December 1916, but the results are not yet known.

(4) Two extensions of the period of benefit normally allowed to wards were granted during the year under report, to enable them to qualify as a teacher and sick-nurse, respectively. Two short extensions were granted to wards who were studying for the Cambridge Local Examinations.

(5) The monthly average cost for the education and maintenance of each girl on the fund amounted to Rs. 18-8-4 against Rs. 18-12-3 in the preceding year.

(6) The amounts paid under the different heads of expenditure were as noted below:—

V. Inspection.—Mr. A. Mercer was Visiting-Governor for the first half, and Father Van de Mergel for the second half, of the year. Mr. Mercer's report contained certain criticism with reference to the present training of the wards, with the suggestion that the school authorities should be asked to submit half-yearly reports on each ward in the form drawn up by him. The principles of Mr. Mercer's letter were accepted, and the proposed form of report adopted. No report was received from Father Van de Mergel.

VI. Meetings.—Five meetings were held during the year, but there was no resolution of sufficient importance calling for special mention, except that relating to the revised policy for the education and maintenance of Bruce wards already referred to in section IV.

W. W. HORNELL.

Honorary Secretary to the Governors.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 30th April 1917.

Summary.—During the week light scattered showers fell in all the divisions of the province excepting Rajshahi, where there was practically no rain. More rain is urgently needed for the agricultural operations, especially in the Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. Sowing of autumn paddy and jute continues, but the progress is being retarded in places for want of rain. Weeding has commenced in some of the Eastern districts. Harvesting of summer rice is proceeding. The outturn is generally reported to be satisfactory. Fodder is reported to be insufficient in parts of Nadia, Dacca and Mymensingh districts. Cattle-disease prevails in eleven districts. The average price of common rice has risen by about 0·57 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel entering or passing along the Midnapore Canal, or its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on this line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

- (a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.
- (b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.
- (c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.
- (d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c), is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along the said line of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the line of navigation for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which it is granted, and at the station from which it is issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the manndage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	... One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	... Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	... Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

- (1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in the canal or its branch by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.
- (2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal or its branch.
- (3) Exemption from payment of demurrage or tolls may be granted to vessels while waiting for cargo or for any other purpose at the places on the Midnapore Canal fixed by the Superintending Engineer for such purposes which include Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal, Panskura to Dainan. Such exemption will not extend over a period of more than three months in each case.

If the person in charge of any vessel, on the completion of a voyage or on entering the canal, wishes his vessel to remain in any of the free ghats in the line of navigation he shall give up his toll ticket at the nearest toll station, specifying the particular ghat where he wishes to keep his vessel and shall take out a fresh ticket from such toll station before leaving such ghat. On failure to comply with this provision he shall be liable to demurrage charge as provided in this rule, which shall be recoverable as toll.

- (4) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

- (a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds—(from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in these rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canal and its branch may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency they may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

Orders and Notifloations by the Government of India.

The following resolution, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, published in the Gazette of India dated the 21st April 1917, is republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Legislative Department.

Simla, the 20th April 1917.

No. 10.—With his letter dated the 30th of August 1916, Mr. Golam Hossein Cassim Ariff, an unsuccessful candidate at the election of the Member of the Imperial Legislative Council to represent the Muhammadan community in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions of Bengal, forwarded a memorial to the Governor General in Council bringing into question the validity of the election of the Hon'ble Mr. Abdur Rahim who had been declared duly elected. The memorial contained specific charges of corrupt practices, supported in several instances by affidavits, and alleged other irregularities in connection with the election.

2. The Governor General in Council after considering the memorial decided that an inquiry should be held into the allegations therein contained, and accordingly orders were issued in the letter of the Government of India, No. 3586, dated the 14th of September 1916, to the Government of Bengal, directing that with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council an inquiry might be held into the facts alleged in the memorial at the earliest possible date by a responsible officer, after giving notice to both the parties concerned. It was further requested that the officer selected to hold the inquiry should be directed to report whether in his opinion the charges made by Mr. Ariff were established. Considerable delay, which the Governor General in Council cannot but regard as unfortunate, took place in fixing a date for the inquiry, and it was not till the 21st of November 1916 that the parties and their representatives attended before the Hon'ble Mr. Monahan, who had been entrusted with the enquiry. As to what took place on that date, the Hon'ble Mr. Monahan in his report states that "Counsel on both sides having asked for a short adjournment, as there was a prospect of the parties arriving at a settlement" he adjourned the hearing from 11 to 2-30, at which hour Counsel on behalf of Mr. Ariff stated that his client wished to withdraw the memorial, and Counsel on behalf of Mr. Rahim stated that he was satisfied with the withdrawal. No further action was taken by the Hon'ble Mr. Monahan beyond a report of these infructuous proceedings which was communicated to the Governor General in Council by a letter from the Government of Bengal, dated the 29th of November 1916.

3. On receipt of this report, it was clear that the matter could not be left in the position in which it then rested, as definite allegations of corrupt practices had been made, which gravely affected the status of a Member of the Imperial Legislative Council. Moreover, from the terms of the inquiring officer's report it appeared that something in the nature of a compromise had taken place between the memorialist and the elected candidate, of which, if established, the Governor General in Council would strongly disapprove. In these circumstances the Governor-General in Council considered that a full inquiry should be held not only with regard to the original allegations but also as to the facts which led to the withdrawal of the petition, and it was recognised that the investigating officer must be clothed with wider powers. With this object the Governor General promulgated the Indian Legislative Council (Election Inquiries) Ordinance, 1916, under section 2 of which Mr. H. P. Duval, Legal Remembrancer to the Government of Bengal, was appointed a Commissioner for the purpose of conducting the necessary investigation.

4. The Commissioner accordingly duly held an inquiry at which a large number of witnesses were examined and he submitted the report which is annexed to this Resolution.

5. The Governor General in Council has now considered Mr. Duval's report and the evidence recorded by him and has come to the following conclusions. In the first place he regrets to state that he is by no means satisfied that the election was free from corrupt practices, though he is disposed to agree with the Commissioner that most of the actual charges made by the memorialist appear to be without foundation. Owing to the difficulties experienced by the Commissioner in conducting the investigation, due in part to the long delay that unfortunately ensued before any effective action was taken, and in part to the fact that no assistance was to be expected from the memorialist who had withdrawn his petition, the evidence recorded by the Commissioner is not conclusive, and the Governor General in Council is not prepared therefore to declare the election void under Regulation XVI. The Governor General in Council, however, has arrived at this conclusion after considerable hesitation and cannot refrain from observing that the facts disclosed in the Commissioner's report indicate at least that the case was one requiring very careful investigation. The Commissioner's report moreover shows the necessity of changes in the Regulations, and possibly the desirability of permanent legislation to provide effective machinery for the investigation of election petitions in the future.

6. The Governor General in Council further takes this opportunity of affirming his determination not to tolerate anything in the nature of a collusive compromise of an election dispute, and to emphasise the fact that the bringing of false charges by a defeated candidate against his rival would be regarded as discreditable conduct and might have the effect of bringing the person concerned within the provisions of Regulation IV (k).

7. Subject to the foregoing remarks the Governor General in Council sees no reason to differ from the conclusions arrived at by the Commissioner in his careful and thorough report.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a notification under Regulation XVI be issued declaring the Hon'ble Mr. Abdur Rahim to have been duly elected, and that this Resolution together with a copy of Mr. Duval's report be published in the Gazette of India and also that a copy be forwarded to the Government of Bengal for information.

Report by the Commissioner appointed under Ordinance VIII of 1916 in regard to the election held in 1916, of a representative of the Muhammadan Community in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions in Bengal.

THE allegations of corrupt practices by or on behalf of the Hon'ble Mr. Abdur Rahim are set out in the memorial of Mr. Ariff commencing with paragraph 7 (vi). As to paragraph 7 (xviii) at the commencement of the proceedings before me the attorney for Mr. Ariff stated that he had no further evidence. I have, however, made some inquiry into the general conduct of the election.

It appears that the rival candidates came into the field about February or March last. Mr. Rahim at once set to work and with the help of canvassers got people whom he considered had the legal qualifications to vote, had not been on the electoral roll before and had signed a form promising their votes to him, to make applications to be put on the new roll. The first electorate roll was published in April 1916, and after that there were applications from a large number of persons to be put on the roll. Applications were also made on behalf of the candidates to strike out persons as being ineligible. Some of the applications were granted and some were refused. An application to put on to the roll about 20 members of the Salehji family who supported and are great friends of Mr. Ariff, was rejected. Mr. Ariff says he took no steps to get the roll revised until the draft roll for the present election was published in April. Mr. Rahim thus got on the rolls several electors, including some about whose votes corrupt practices are alleged. He also got the canvassers to persuade voters to fill in printed forms promising him their support. In June and July he visited some of the electors. Mr. Ariff also had his admitted canvassers, but he says he did not pay them, though he paid their expenses in a few instances. He states that his friends who went canvassing for him paid their own expenses usually and, being well-to-do, do not like to tell him what their expenses were.

Out of the 197 voters, 117 were residents of Calcutta and both sides canvassed hard chiefly in motor cars.

Mr. Rahim had a form printed which a voter could fill asking for their voting paper to be sent to an address other than that mentioned in the voters' list and his canvassers distributed it. Several voters therefore wrote to the Chief Secretary's office and asked that their voting papers should be sent to places in Calcutta. Several such voting papers belonging to voters thus came into the hands of Mr. Rahim and his supporter, Mr. Ismail Chowdhury. He also had a letter printed and issued warning people to be very careful of their voting papers. These letters were also distributed by the canvassers. The records of the Secretariat show that before the voting papers issued two people wrote that the papers were to be sent to Mr. Ariff (Mr. Ariff gives a perfectly good explanation of this) and one to his canvasser, Narendra Nath Singha, and 11 to Mr. Rahim or his supporters' houses. The voting papers were posted to the voters on Saturday, July 22nd, and under the rules voters could vote before either a District Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Officer, Chief Presidency Magistrate, or any Sub-Registrar. In all out of 61 residents outside Calcutta and its suburbs who voted 41 voted in the mufasal and 17 in Calcutta. During the days the poll was open (i.e., from July 24th to August 5th) further applications were made to the Chief Secretary's office for duplicate voting papers on various allegations. Some such were sent by post and others handed over personally at the Chief Secretary's office to voters who were identified there either by Mr. Rahim or Mr. Ismail Chowdhury.

Most of Mr. Rahim's supporters about whose votes corrupt practices were alleged voted at the Registration office—3, Charnock Place, Calcutta. Mr. Ariff's supporters in Calcutta voted chiefly at the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court, the Subdivisional Court at Sealdah and the Registration office at Alipur. The last day of voting was the 5th August and the day of the counting of the votes was the 12th August. Affidavits on behalf of Mr. Ariff relating to corrupt practices began to be made on the 8th and 9th August when 5 affidavits were made at Diamond Harbour and 1 in Calcutta and continued throughout the month. Mr. Ariff collected these affidavits and on these his petition to His Excellency the Governor General in Council was drafted by Mr. B. C. Mitra, Barrister-at-law and Standing Counsel, and others.

Mr. Ariff has stated how he came by his information. Mr. Rahim states that he heard of some corrupt practices committed by Mr. Ariff, and he also made some inquiries about them.

Neither Mr. Rahim nor Mr. Ariff could produce any full account of their expenditure. Mr. Ariff has produced no account at all; he says that any expenses of his canvassers which had to be paid for, was paid from the household monies of himself and his brothers who live jointly with him, and that his elder brother's wife disbursed any expenditure there was. His whole expenditure did not exceed Rs. 200 to Rs. 400. He had the use in all of 12 motor cars (his own and of friends.)

Mr. Rahim has given some account of his expenditure to me. He says that his firm (Messrs. Bux Ellahi & Co.) purchased a new motor car in June for Rs. 3,025 and incurred extra expenses on motor tyres and petrol, owing to the election; of about Rs. 1,000. His firm also met the printing charges but he cannot show them separately. He keeps no private account of his personal expenditure, but has a private income of from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 3,000 a month from house-rents in Calcutta. He has too presumably his share in the profits of the firm of Bux Ellahi. He says he spent about Rs. 1,000 on canvassers and travelling expenses for his canvassers, servants and friends. The only details he can give are as follows:—

Canvasser Fazle Rahman—Rs. 50 a month for 3 months and at Rs. 100 for 2 months and his expenses of coming to Calcutta. (This canvasser had 3 voters to look after.)

Abdul Hamid—Rs. 50 a month for 5 months and Rs. 100 bukshish after the election. (He had 5 or 6 persons to look after.)

Abdul Gani Khan (father of Abdul Hamid)—Rs. 60 for 2 months. (He was then dismissed.)

Kazi Abdul Gani Khan—Rs. 50 or 60 for the last 2 or 3 months. (He got promises of 3 voters but only 2 were polled.)

Mr. Rahim has also produced a list of the charities of his firm in the last year showing an expenditure of Rs. 34,000. It is not abnormal compared to his charities of other years (lists of which for two other years were shown). I cannot find that either candidate set out any programme or declared their political faith in any policy. One canvasser of Mr. Rahim stated that he told the electors that they should vote for Mr. Rahim as his firm was so well-known for its charities, helping in the repairs of mosques, helping orphans and widows, and having started a fund for the burial of unclaimed Muhammadan dead found in Calcutta streets. The fact that his firm is charitable in this way all over India is borne out by the list filed. Mr. Ariff had more experience of election, having twice been elected to the Bengal Council. Mr. Rahim had no previous experience, but his friend Mr. Ismail Choudhury had.

As to the electorate 32 electors were Surati people by origin including Mr. Ariff, and 14 were Delhiwallas including Mr. Rahim and his father, 113 were Bengalis and the rest belonging to other nationalities. Of these electorates about half (including several shop-keepers) got their qualification as Income-tax payers, but admittedly as a whole the Surati momins and the Delhiwallas (the parties of Mr. Ariff and Mr. Rahim) are the rich part of the electorate. Mr. Ariff considers himself of a higher social status than Mr. Rahim, describing himself as a merchant and Mr. Rahim as a trader.

I now come to the specific allegations:—

Paragraph 7 (vi).—The charge here is that Mr. Rahim gave Rs. 2,000 as a subscription to the Burdwan Muhammadan Educational Conference held in April last to procure the votes of the electorate.

Mr. Ariff says he got the information from a late Head Master of the Jubilee Laik Institution, Burdwan, and also heard that several voters were offered sums up to Rs. 1,000 to vote for Mr. Rahim.

Mr. Rahim shows that his firm paid only Rs. 1,000 towards the Conference, and this sum had been promised to the Hon'ble Mr. Fazlul Haq, the Secretary, in October, before Mr. Rahim had come forward as a candidate. Mr. Fazlul Haq, however, did not want to keep so much money until he knew the Conference would be held though Mr. Rahim offered to pay it at once. His firm actually paid the Rs. 1,000 on April 4th, 1916, after his candidature was announced. The Hon'ble Mr. Fazlul Haq supports this version of the transaction, and I see no reason to disbelieve him. Mr. Rahim had assisted the Conference on a previous occasion by paying off the deficit when it was held in Calcutta a few years ago.

There is no evidence that there were any corrupt practice in Burdwan or its neighbourhood put before me.

Paragraph 7 (vii).—The only evidence that Mr. Ariff has produced on this charge of giving entertainments to influence voters is that of two invitations to two voters (Exhs. N. & O.) whom Mr. Rahim had got on to the lists, who were invited to dine with Mr. Rahim on 16th April at his garden house at Seth Bagan, Dum-Dum. One of these voters was Abdul Aziz who voted twice and the other voted for Mr. Ariff. Neither of them are men of much account—being very ordinary shop-keepers. Mr. Rahim says he only invited his friends, as he always does, and that he has regularly entertained for some years; as a matter of fact owing to the election he has not entertained so often as usual during the time it was on, as he was too busy.

It does appear that he asked these voters to dine after he had got their names on to the roll, but it is argued that mere treating is not an offence in Indian elections, and that anyhow he had no corrupt intention. As a matter of fact these two voters refused the invitation and there is no evidence as to who else was there. Mr. Ariff has not substantiated anything more than that two voters who subsequently voted for him (one of them also voting for Mr. Rahim) were asked to dinner and refused the invitation.

*Paragraph 7 (viii).—*Re voters alleged to have been brought at Mr. Rahim's expense to vote at Calcutta.

I will take this paragraph last as I will have to treat of the conduct of most of these voters in dealing with the specific charges of bribing and corruption.

*Paragraph 7 (ix).—*The charge here is that Nader Jang, a canvasser of Mr. Rahim and member of the Chitpur Nizam family, went to Hooghly and saw Sahabzada Aminuddin, a member of the Mysore Family who was a voter, and was formerly a Sub-Registrar in the Hooghly district and asked him to obtain the vote of Maulvi Izad Bux, a pleader of high position at Hooghly. This statement is set out in a letter (Exhibit D), given by Aminuddin to Mr. Ariff. Before me, however, Aminuddin has changed his story. He now says he does not know how much the offer was and that the offer was made not by Prince Nader Jang, but by an unknown man. Whatever that may be, that there was a talk about an offer of a bribe for Mr. Izad Bux's vote being made on behalf of Mr. Rahim is clear from the fact that it got to Mr. Izad Bux's and subsequently to Mr. Rahim's ears. The result was that Mr. Izad Bux, who is a very respectable gentleman, refused to vote for either party. Mr. Rahim hearing of it went to Chinsura himself to inquire, but could only find it was a rumour. In this connection, I would also refer to the fact that another voter Sahabzada Wasif Qadr Asif Ali Mirza of the Nizam Family of Murshidabad after recording his vote for Mr. Ariff changed his mind and wrote a letter both to the Registrar and the Returning Officer asking that his vote should be cancelled. I do not consider, however, that anything has been proved against Mr. Rahim in this matter. It appears proved that rumours were going about in Chinsura that Mr. Rahim was buying votes; but in the first place Aminuddin's evidence on solemn affirmation does not agree with his letter which was not sworn to, and in the second place Nader Jang denies the story. It is not proved too that the man who made the offer was a canvasser of Mr. Rahim or was acting with his knowledge.

*Paragraph 7 (x).—*The charge here is that Mr. Rahim offered Nowsherwan Jah, a grandson of the late King of Oudh and a Political Pensioner, some monetary assistance and a promise that he would use his influence with Sir Shamsul Huda to obtain an appointment for him in the Registration Department if he could procure the vote from his uncle, Prince Sultan Mirza, for Mr. Rahim, and further threatened him that if he did not procure the vote he would take care to see that Nowsherwan Jah never gets an appointment in Government service. Besides the evidence of Nowsherwan Jah in support of his affidavit there is the evidence of Sk. Mahbur Ali that Nowsherwan Jah told him before the election was over of the incident. Mr. Rahim denies the incident; so does Prince Sultan Mirza, and Mr. Rahim says that he was taken to Prince Sultan Mirza by Sultan Mirza's step-brother, Prince Dura Jah, and introduced to him, but that as Prince Sultan Mirza had already promised to vote for Mr. Ariff, Mr. Rahim was unable to get his vote. As to the alleged promise Sir Shamsul Huda has made a statement which shows that Nowsherwan Jah has been trying to obtain an appointment in the Registration Department and saw Sir Shamsul Huda about it two years ago. Sir Shamsul Huda, however, found he was quite unfit educationally. Quite recently, however, Sir Shamsul Huda was approached again on his behalf by Mr. Zahed Surhawardy, a gentleman who was on the Bengal Legislative Council as representative of the Muhammadans of the Presidency Division and had had the support of Mr. Ariff in getting elected. In this connection it is further alleged by Nowsherwan Jah that Sir Shamsul Huda's name was canvassed as that of a supporter of Mr. Rahim, and that this fact would influence voters. In this connection the Presidency Magistrate, Khan Bahadur Abdus Salem, was examined, and he said that Prince Sultan Alam asked him to vote for Mr. Rahim and remarked that Mr. Rahim was supported by Sir Shamsul Huda. Sir Shamsul Huda says that his sympathies were with Mr. Rahim, but that he expressed no opinion. It may well be, considering the excessive canvassing which was going on, some canvassers might have used Sir Shamsul Huda's name, but this was quite unauthorised by Sir Shamsul Huda and is not in itself a corrupt practice. As to this specific charge of the promise it appears to me to be a most unlikely incident. The promise of pecuniary help is extremely vague, and the promise to procure an appointment for this uneducated youth seems to be to be extremely improbable. Nor could Mr. Rahim have thought it possible that either Prince Sultan Mirza would vote the way his nephew would like him to, or that he could procure from Sir Shamsul Huda an appointment for such an incompetent person. It is further at least strange that Mr. Zahed Surhawardy, who had the support of Mr. Ariff in the Bengal Council election, about two months ago (i.e., after the first inquiry was ordered), approached Sir Shamsul Huda again to see if this young man could be helped.

Paragraph 7 (xi).—The charge here is that Moulvi Abdul Rahim by threats induced Abdul Aziz who had already voted for Mr. Ariff to vote again for Mr. Rahim.

This case of the voting of Abdul Aziz is peculiar and somewhat amusing. Abdul Aziz has a shop in Radhabazar and his address in the voting list is given as Radhabazar. His home is at Punchberia in the Howrah district and he was at Punchberia in the end of July. His story is (and it is supported by Narendra Nath Sinha, a canvasser of Mr. Ariff but a witness who is by no means above suspicion) that on the 25th of July in the evening Narendra Singh arrived at Punchberia and stayed the night at this Muhammadan's house. The next morning Narendra Nath Sinha, Abdul Aziz and Abdul Aziz's brother came back by train. Narendra had a return 2nd class ticket. Abdul Aziz who was not aware of this so, though he naturally travels intermediate, on this occasion bought three 2nd class tickets and the three returned together to Howrah Station. The extra ticket was not used, but Narendra did not pay this voter the price of it. Arriving at Howrah Station they got into Mr. Ariff's motor which was waiting for them. They then went to Mr. Ariff's house. As Abdul Aziz had not yet got a voting paper, he not having been to his house in Radhabazar since the voting papers had been issued, Mr. Ariff's voting paper was taken for the purpose of being used for Abdul Aziz's vote. Mr. Ariff supported this part of the story until I showed him a letter which he had addressed to the Chief Secretary on the 28th of July, in which he said that he had lost his voting paper out of his motor car. Mr. Ariff then said that probably one of his brother's voting paper was used. Having procured a voting paper, the voter, Narendra and one Dr. Paul, who appears to be an Islami preacher and who has been financially assisted by Mr. Ariff and his friends, the Salehjis, proceeded to Entally Sub-Registry office and there Dr. Paul, who did not know Abdul Aziz before this incident, identified Abdul Aziz to the Sub-Registrar and Abdul Aziz voted for Mr. Ariff. The parties then came away. Narendra Singha was dropped at his house and Dr. Paul took Abdul Aziz back to his shop in Radhabazar. They found there Abdul Aziz's voting paper waiting for him which Dr. Paul impounded and took away with him and handed over to Mr. Ariff. The vote had been recorded sharp at 11 o'clock at Entally. It then appears that a canvasser of Mr. Rahim, Shefaulmulk Abdul Rashid, arrived at Abdul Aziz's shop. He somehow must have had a voting paper with him and he took Abdul Aziz in a car and gave him a ride out to Cossipur about five miles away where at 1 o'clock the same day on his identification Abdul Aziz recorded his vote again before the Sub-Registrar in favour of Mr. Rahim. Abdul Rashid is an inhabitant of Delhi. Telegrams were sent to him to come and give evidence but he did not appear.

There is no evidence that any threats were used to Abdul Aziz who seemed to have given his vote for both sides in return for drives in motor cars. No explanation, however, is given as to how Rashid had a voting paper handy, but it is proved from the Chief Secretary's records that several voters' papers were sent to the firm of Bux Ellahi on receipt of letters written on Mr. Rahim's printed form. It appears as I have remarked above that before the election several voters filled in forms printed by Mr. Rahim asking for their votes to be sent to care of Bux Ellahi or Ismail Chondhury or to 10, Colntola Street, the office of the firm of Bux Ellahi. Thus Mr. Rahim got possession before the election of several voting papers, and as the voting papers were not marked with the voters' names, anyone could use any voting paper he could procure. In the same way two voters who expected to be absent from Calcutta had their voting papers sent to care of Mr. Ariff. The copy of the Gazette attached (flag 17) will show how after the election list was out a considerable number of voters had their votes sent to Mr. Rahim or his friends. Mr. Rahim explains this by saying that he also issued a warning letter to his supporters to be very careful about their voting papers as he thought that in the recent election of the Muhammadan representative for the Presidency Division several voting papers of Abdul Karim's supporters had gone astray, and he suspected had been stolen in the post. As to the specific charge however with which I am now dealing there is nothing to prove that any threats or promise of pecuniary assistance were made to Abdul Aziz. I would remark that this Abdul Aziz is the same gentleman who had been put on the register by Mr. Rahim's exertions and who was invited to dinner by Mr. Rahim in April, but refused the invitation.

Paragraph 7 (xii).—The charge here is that Mr. Rahim promised to pay Rs. 5,000 for the repair of his canvasser Fazle Rahaman's mosque at Magra Hât and also offered pecuniary assistance to help three voters who live within a few miles of Magra Hât. This charge is supported by six affidavits. It is admitted that Fazle Rahaman, who is now not in good circumstances, went to Mr. Rahim in March and offered to be his paid canvasser. Mr. Rahim took him on without apparently knowing very much about him, as a canvasser on Rs. 50 a month. He found two persons who could be put on the register—Gulam Afsar Molla and Nasibal Islam Molla. He also procured from them their signature on a printed Bengali form stating they would support Mr. Rahim. These two men thus became voters. There was a further vote in the neighbourhood Shah Alam. Fazle Rahaman was a canvasser for these three voters only and received a pay of Rs. 50 a month up to the beginning of July. The following facts are further admitted. On the 29th of June Mr. Rahim went by train in a first class reserved carriage to Magra Hât to meet the voters by arrangement with Fazle Rahaman. Nasibal and Gulam Afsar live some miles from Magra Hât, but they have to pass through it in going and returning from Diamond Harbour or Calcutta. It was therefore convenient for Mr. Rahim, who wished to see them, to meet them there. Mr. Rahim says that Shah Alam accompanied him from Calcutta as also did one Adam Gazi and Wahed, and they arrived at Magra Hât about 10 o'clock in the special carriage. There they were met and taken to Fazle Rahaman's house. The two other voters were present there and Mr. Rahim asked them to promise their votes to him personally. They agreed. Light refreshments were served on their arriving, and subsequently a good feast was given, Mr. Rahim dining with Fazle Rahaman's family and the voters at Fazle Rahaman's expense. It was also arranged that they should write to the Chief Secretary to have their votes sent to the care of Mr. Rahim's firm and not to be posted to their villages. These letters were given Mr. Rahim who forwarded them to the Chief Secretary (Exhs. A-2, A-3) and in these letters the voters say they will be at Mr. Rahim's address at the time of voting. Mr. Rahim came away in the special carriage about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The charge is that Mr. Rahim paid for the feast and that he promised the three voters pecuniary assistance in clearing off their mortgages, and promised his canvasser Fazle Rahaman Rs. 5,000 for repair of his mosque. The evidence on this point is most discrepant, and one witness who had given an affidavit now backs out of it. It appears that on the 9th of August the people who swore the affidavits went to Diamond Harbour with one Bilait Ali, the Secretary of a local school, of the managing body of which Mr. Ariff is one of the members and swore affidavits to this effect. All except one of these affidavits were subsequently given up and the affidavit makers came to Sealdah and swore fresh affidavits to the same effect, this being arranged by Muhammad Amin who went out to Magra Hât to make inquiries as to what had taken place on behalf of Mr. Ariff. Some of these persons who make the affidavits were connected with the Magra Hât school and so under the influence of Bilait Ali; but one has since apparently resigned and he has given evidence before me denying the truth of the affidavit. I cannot myself believe the affidavits or the evidence of the people who made them. It is not clear why the two voters who live eight or nine miles from Magra Hât should vote for Mr. Rahim because Mr. Rahim was going to repair a small mosque at a high cost of Rs. 5,000 there; and the evidence that Mr. Rahim ever gave out any hope to these voters of paying off their mortgages is most discrepant. My finding on the evidence is that Mr. Rahim went to Magra Hât to procure these votes and that Fazle Rahaman who was his paid canvasser gave a specially good feast to him and the voters. It further appears that after this visit Fazle Rahaman's pay was increased to Rs. 100 for the months of July and August. Mr. Rahim explains this by saying he thought it better to give him a fixed sum instead of bukshish after the result of the election as he did in the case of one or two other canvassers. As to this charge it would, I consider, come under the charge of treating, if treating is an offence, and certainly the payment to Fazle Rahaman in all of Rs. 400 to see that these people voted for Mr. Rahim seems quite out of proportion to the work required. There are, however, no rules at present in existence limiting the amount that may be spent on paid canvassers. These voters finally voted in Calcutta, and the evidence is that they came to Chetla, not Colootola Street, as they said they would in their letters. It appeared that they had regular business in Calcutta and had lodgings in Chetla. Shah Alam too is a regular visitor to Calcutta. Golam Afsar voted on the 26th and Nasibal on the 31st. On Mr. Ariff's side it is alleged that they were taken to vote by Mr. Rahim in his motor cars. The voters, however, tell us that they came to the Registration office by tram car from Chetla and went to the Registration office without Mr. Rahim knowing anything about it though he had their voting papers, and that they then voted on his identifying them at the Registration office and subsequently went home. It seems to me that these voters protest too much. It would have been no offence for them to have gone in Mr. Rahim's motor car from Chetla to the voting place though there is no reason why they should not have voted at the Alipur Registry office which will be only a few minutes walk from their lodgings. I have been told, however, by Counsel for Mr. Rahim that Mr. Rahim did not like the arrangements made at the Alipur Registration office and so he did not care to have his voters polling there. In reference to the charge that Mr. Rahim paid the expenses of these voters for coming to Calcutta to vote I do not consider it has been substantiated (charge in paragraph VIII), though the evidence of the letters saying they would be staying at his place is very suspicious.

Paragraph 7 (riii).—There were four voters in Basirhat Subdivisional jurisdiction—Moulvi Golam Kasim Khan Bahadur and Abdul Baseque, residents of Basirhat town, Golam Gafar Mondol of Munkundakati village, a short distance away from Basirhat, and Ismail Sardar of Kolutola, a village some miles off from Basirhat and reached from the station named Chingribatta which is about six miles from that town. The evidence is that Dr. Ibrahim who has not been examined on behalf of Mr. Ariff was canvassing for Mr. Ariff in that quarter, and Mr. Ariff also had other canvassers and he had on the previous occasion when he stood for election for the Bengal Council obtained the votes of the gentlemen of this quarter. Mr. Rahim sent his servant, a Punjabi, Abdul Gafur Khan, to canvass the votes. As to Ismail Sardar's vote it is alleged that Ismail Sardar has a mosque and a Muktabkhana and Abdul Gafur Khan arrived at the village and found him and, with the help of the Moulvi of the Muktab Fazlul Azim, asked Ismail for his vote for Mr. Rahim explaining to him that Mr. Rahim was very charitable and sympathetic, helping orphans and widows and had opened an Association in Calcutta for burying unclaimed dead bodies of Muhammadans and on that Ismail promised to vote for him. The allegation of Fazlul Azim is that Ismail showed him the poor condition of his school and mosque and said that Mr. Rahim had already promised Rs. 2,000 for the repair of the Shahi mosque at Basirhat, and so Ismail would like certain arrangements for the benefit of his mosque and school. Abdul Gafur Khan has said that Mr. Rahim was coming to Basirhat on the following Friday and he should come in there and arrange matters with him. It is admitted that Mr. Rahim went to Basirhat on Friday, the 14th of July and went to the Dâk Bungalow. This was during the Roza and so there was no question of refreshments. He says that he then went to prayers at the Shahi mosque where also the Khan Bahadur Golam Kasim and Baseque were at prayer. When he came out from prayers some people spoke to him about the bad state of the mosque. It appears the mosque was repaired some time ago, but the people want a covering for the open platform. Mr. Rahim on this point explains as follows: "Some people "caught me as I came out and said the mosque was built by an old king "and they were in need of a new shed over the open platform of the mosque "and asked me to contribute. I asked if they had raised subscription. "They said they had not but were going to do so shortly. I told them "when they raised subscription they could see me about it, and I would "consider. I asked what it cost and they said about Rs. 1,200. There was "no talk of an estimate being prepared." The affidavit givers (one of whom however has gone back on his affidavit) say that a definite sum was offered for the repair of the mosque and for Ismail's mosque at the Dāk Bungalow afterwards and that there was also promise to pay off the debts of the voters. As to Khan Bahadur he denies that he has any debts to pay at all. He is an Honorary Magistrate of some position who has been recently prominent in procuring a dispensary at Basirhat. The voters also deny that they were ever promised any money for their votes. I cannot say that I am much impressed with the affidavits and the evidence in support of them which again are rather of the nature of hearsay evidence. But it is clear that Mr. Rahim certainly held out a sort of hope to the people of Basirhat in general that he would help them with subscriptions when they were in a position to repair the mosque—a mosque of some antiquity and celebrity and this at a time he was wanting the votes. I do not believe that he could ever have made any offer to repair Ismail's mosque though Ismail went too far by trying to make out that he had no mosque at all. Fazlul was a wandering musafir and had gone to Kolutola to lead the prayers and read the Koran during the time of the Roza. The evidence as to these voters goes on to the following effect. It appears that on the 18th, Mr. Ariff says he heard that Rashid (who was canvassing for Mr. Rahim) was going to Basirhat to see the voters again on behalf of Mr. Rahim. He therefore sent Mr. Ismail Salehji to watch him. Mr. Rahim says (and it seems more likely) that he heard that Ismail Salehji was going to Basirhat to try and get voters to vote for Mr. Ariff and so he sent Abdul Rashid to watch him. Abdul Rashid went by motor accompanied by Kamaluddin. Mr. Ismail Salehji also went by motor. Both parties certainly went to Basirhat on the 19th and Mr. Ismail Salehji says that after Rashid left he saw Baseque (Khan Bahadur Golan Kasim had then come to Calcutta) and asked him whom they were going to vote for and Baseque said that as they had received an assurance about the mosque from Mr. Rahim the Basirhat people would vote for him. Mr. Ismail Salehji however was not told of anything in writing. Mr. Salehji then returned to Calcutta and saw the Khan Bahadur who said he was getting money from Mr. Rahim on high interest, but if Mr. Ariff will lend him some on lower interest he would vote for him (a story I do not believe). It appears that when his election petition was being drawn up by Mr. Ariff there came into his hands a letter with a printed address 10, Colutola Street, and typed purporting to be signed by Mr. A. Rahim. Mr. Ariff says that he got loan of this letter for two days only from one Marfatulla, a man who had been his canvasser in Basirhat when he stood for the Bengal Council. In this letter the writer promises that all he had said for the benefit of the mosque he as a Muhammadan would perform and if this letter were genuine there would be no doubt that Mr. Rahim had promised money in return for votes. The letter was seen also by the Hon'ble Mr. B. N. Basu, Solicitor for Mr. Ariff, at the time of preparing the petition. It was also seen by Dr. Surhawardy, a canvasser and supporter of Mr. Ariff and was referred to when Mr. D. C. Mitter and Mr. N. N. Sarkar were preparing Mr. Ariff's petition. As, however, it is said, it could not be used it was not referred to in the petition. The fact of the existence of this document was mentioned to me in an anonymous petition and when I asked Dr. Surhawardy about it he said that he had seen the document. A few days afterwards the document reached me anonymously with a letter saying that it had been recovered from the man who had got it by promise of payment and making other allegations against Mr. Rahim's supporters. Mr. Rahim denies naturally having issued such a letter. Mr. Ariff's conduct in regard to it appears to me to show that he did not put very much reliance on it. At the same time I would remark that Mr. Ariff in his petition did not apparently use all the evidence he had as there was an affidavit offered him by a guest of his, one Menatulla, who had voted for Mr. Rahim, in which Menatulla says he was asked to vote twice, that he was told that Mr. Rahim was willing to help him with Rs. 5,000 to liquidate his debts if he voted for him and that he did not get this sum but only got Rs. 25 for his expenses through one Mobarak Ali, a canvasser of Mr. Rahim. This, however, is not one of the charges set out in Mr. Ariff's petition and so has not been gone into.

These Basirhat voters (except the Khan Bahadur) all voted in Calcutta and Mr. Ariff alleges that they did so at Mr. Rahim's expense. The Khan Bahadur had his voting paper sent to him care of Shefaulmulik Abdul Rashid, the man who had been to Basirhat on the 19th July, as he was ill—he came to Calcutta in July to stay with his son-in-law at Chetla to be under medical treatment, and he was actually under the treatment of Dr. B. L. Bose. He voted, however, at the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court on the advice of Shefaulmulik Abdul Rashid that least trouble was caused there. I do not think there is anything suspicious about his voting in Calcutta.

Baseque, though a resident of Basirhat, voted at the Calcutta Registration office. He says that he came to Calcutta to make purchases, as the Id was just coming on and so while he was here he voted on the 28th July. His story is that he always comes to Calcutta to buy things before Id, and that he came straight to Calcutta by the Basirhat Railway, came down from Shambazar to the Registration office and then went away. I must say his evidence is most suspicious. In the first place it is full of obvious falsehoods. He says that he came to the Registration office as it was mentioned in the voting paper. The voting paper is entirely silent as to where anyone should vote at all. He says he got his voting paper ten days or more before he came to Calcutta. He voted on the 28th. The voting paper could not have reached him before the 23rd at the very earliest. His explanation why he did not vote at Basirhat is that people on both sides were bothering him so much as to his vote and so he thought he would slip off to Calcutta and vote and then afterwards would say that he voted. He further said that he did not tell Mr. Rahim that he voted for him. This is difficult to believe as it is Mr. Rahim who identified him at the Registration office. Further this witness did not come to give evidence until a warrant was issued for his arrest and hearing of that he suddenly appeared. As to this man's evidence I hold that there is considerable suspicion as to the circumstances under which he voted.

As to Ismail Sardar he voted on the 24th July at the Registration office. Voting papers were only sent out on the 22nd and he lives some distance from a post office. His story is that on the morning of the 24th July he had to come to Calcutta owing to a relative being ill, the relative being a son of the paternal aunt of his nephew's wife. On his way to Calcutta he went to the Hasnabad Post Office and took his voting paper. How he knew it would be there then is not very obvious. He then came about 5 hours in the train and then another 5 miles to Registration office and then voted on the 24th, which was a Monday. As the voting papers did not leave the Secretariat till the 22nd and 23rd was a Sunday, he could not have presumably got his voting paper before the office opened at Hasnabad on the 24th. He thus could not have reached Shambazar till late in the afternoon on the 24th, the train reaching there about 4-30, which would be too late to enable him to vote on that day at all. The circumstances therefore of his voting in Calcutta instead of voting as he could have done at Basirhat are suspicious too. On the other hand, it is alleged on Mr. Ariff's side that he was fetched from his village in a motor car to vote and kept in Calcutta at Mr. Rahim's expense.

Golam Gafar also voted on the 24th July. His house is a few miles from Basirhat. There would be the same difficulty of his getting his voting paper in time to enable him to vote on that day. His story is that he came to Calcutta to his brother in Harsi Street and was there for 2 days and from there he went straight to Charnock Place in his own gharry to vote. There is no explanation therefore as to what paper he voted with. He certainly on his own showing could not have voted with his own paper.

*Paragraph 7 (xiv).—*The charge in this paragraph is purely hearsay, one Kamaluddin, who is a friend of Abdul Rashid and used to go about with Abdul Rashid, canvasser of Mr. Rahim, in his motor, has recently proceeded to England. It is alleged that Mr. Rahim has paid him a large sum of money for his vote to help him there. It appears, however, from the report of the Director of Public Instruction that Kamaluddin has gone to England for the scientific study of Arabic as a State scholar on £250 a year. There is no evidence to prove that Kamaluddin received any consideration for his vote. He was a friend of Rashid, Mr. Rahim's canvasser, and would be expected to vote for him.

Paragraph 7 (xv).—The charge here is that Mr. Abdur Rahim, who is a Municipal Commissioner, asked Mr. Baker (Superintendent of the Municipal Market) to procure Gyasuddin Mistry's vote, but Mr. Baker declined. So Mr. Rahim complained in writing to the Chairman against Gyasuddin and Gyasuddin in fear voted for Mr. Rahim. Mr. Payne, the then Chairman of the Municipality, says that he received no such complaint from Mr. Rahim at all. Gyasuddin, who appears to be practically an illiterate tradesman at the Municipal Market and who is very lame, says that he did not care for which he voted, but that as some people on behalf of Mr. Rahim came in a motor car to his shop and took him to the Registration office and as he came in Mr. Rahim's motor car he voted for Mr. Rahim. He cannot say whether if Mr. Ariff's men had arrived first in their motor he would have voted for Mr. Ariff but might have. There is nothing further in this charge.

Paragraph 7 (xvi).—There is a voter Abdul Gani, a trader living in Darmahatta Street. His story is that Mr. Rahim came to his house towards the end of June and asked for his vote. He replied that he promised his vote to Mr. Ariff and so could not vote for him. He then says Mr. Rahim came again in July and said: "Give me your vote and I will give you something" and then gave him a letter in Urdu promising to give him Rs. 500. On the 8th of August Mr. Rahim came to his house and said: "I heard you have not voted for me; return my letter." He pressed him and finally Mr. Rahim paid him Rs. 1,000 in 10-rupee notes to get the letter back. This money he has been spending since. Several of the notes, the numbers of which he remembers, he only spent a few days before my enquiry. He is only corroborated by a friend of his, one Molla Mahmud who happens to be a friend of Mr. Ariff, who has a club in his garden known as the Sunday Club of which he is a member. Mr. Hashim Salehji also says that he received some notes from Abdul Gani in the beginning of January. He is a firm supporter of Mr. Ariff and Mr. Rahim got a large number of the Salehji's votes struck off the list and he lost his vote owing to Mr. Rahim's petition. An effort was made to trace the number of the notes from the Currency Office but failed. I do not believe a word of this story. It appears to me to be too fantastic and improbable. Mr. Rahim says he never canvassed Abdul Gani, as he was told Abdul Gani was a member of Mr. Ariff's Sunday Club and he did not venture to canvass the Amratolla quarter where Mr. Ariff has his residence. The story is so improbable that I notice that even Mr. Ariff's solicitor in his argument practically did not refer to it.

Paragraph 7 (xvii).—The charge here is that Tahersana, a voter of the Khulna district, was given Rs 500 for his vote. There is one affidavit only in support of this story. The story is that Tahersana, who lives at a great distance from Khulna, came to Khulna in connection with a case in his own boat about the end of July and on the 31st July his vote and the vote of one Majum Taluqdar who voted for Mr. Ariff were recorded. The affidavit maker's version of the occurrence is that Tahersana was in his boat and was going to vote for Mr. Ariff and that Tahersana told him (Ahmed Sobhan) that Abdul Gani Khan had offered him Rs. 500 for his ryots of which he had paid Rs. 100 in advance and that the balance of the money was subsequently forced on Tahersana before he voted. The chief and most reliable witness on Mr. Ariff's side in this matter is Doctor Surhawardy. He says that he went to Khulna on the 31st of July where he arrived in the morning and met a voter there, Majum Taluqdar, who was going to vote for Mr. Ariff. It may be noted about this Majum Taluqdar that he had sent a letter to the Chief Secretary asking that his vote should be sent, not to his own address, but to the care of Messrs. Harry Lyons & Co., i.e., Narendra Nath Singha. It would therefore appear that Narendra Nath Singha on behalf of Mr. Ariff had taken down the paper with him to Khulna for Majum Taluqdar. After his arrival that morning Dr. Surhawardy went to Tahersana's boat and canvassed him. Tahersana complained that there was a great deal of Daka-daki (which was subsequently explained by him as meaning bidding for votes). He discussed the question who to vote for remarking that the Legislative Council was not a factory for making cigarettes (referring to Mr. Abdur Rahim's occupation), nor a mill for manufacturing silk (referring to Mr. Ariff's occupation), and that it was quite a different matter that he had voted previously for Mr. Zahed Surhawardy who was a barrister. Dr. Surhawardy says that Ahmed Sobhan told him that Tahersana had received Rs. 100 from Abdul Gani. Majum Taluqdar's vote was recorded shortly after 11. While he was resting in the bungalow he was informed that Tahersana was being taken to the Registry office to have his vote recorded in favour of Mr. Rahim. He went with Naren Singha towards the Registration office where he was told that Tahersana was being taken to the Magistrate's Court. He and Naren Singha went out and saw Tahersana going along with Mr. Rahim's canvassers and Naren Singh alleges that he saw money thrust into Tahersana's hands. Dr. Surhawardy, however, did not see this. Dr. Surhawardy then went into the Subdivisional Officer's Court where he discovered Tahersana and there sent up his card to the Magistrate. It is clear too from the evidence of the Subdivisional Officer that Dr. Surhawardy hoped to get Tahersana to record his vote before him. The Subdivisional Officer, however, sent for the rules before he recorded the vote and in the meanwhile Tahersana seems to have gone away followed by Dr. Surhawardy and have got back again into the hands of Mr. Rahim's supporters. When he reached the Registration office he insisted on voting in a screened-off room and there was some argument between a mukhtar for Mr. Rahim and Dr. Surhawardy before the Sub-Registrar over the place where he should vote. There are other versions of the story, but this seems the most reliable. It seems to me that if the passing of the notes had really taken place before Dr. Surhawardy went to the Subdivisional Officer and said to him that he wanted to have a vote recorded, something would certainly have been said about the passing of this money. The story therefore that any money passed at that time is, I hold, a false one. At the same time what appears to have taken place is that Tahersana had been canvassed by both sides and each side was still hoping to procure his vote in the end. His remark to Dr. Surhawardy that he never knew before such bidding for votes looks very much as if promises were held out to him in the name of both candidates. He looks to be a shrewd old man though he does not appear to have been under police suspicion as when I summoned him. I was informed by wire by the District Magistrate of Khulna that he had recently been released on police bail in some case. He, however, indignantly denied the truth of the District Magistrate's telegram to that effect. He was pressed to vote by canvassers of both sides and even when he reached the Registration office, a mukhtar on behalf of Mr. Rahim and Dr. Surhawardy on behalf of Mr. Ariff raised a discussion before the Registrar as to how his vote was to be recorded. A pleader was then brought in to swear an affidavit to the effect that his vote has been recorded at the Registration office and there was a considerable excitement over the old gentleman who, as a matter of fact, finally voted for Mr. Rahim. I cannot hold therefore that Mr. Ariff has proved any promise or any money being paid to Tahersana for his vote, but Dr. Surhawardy's evidence of what Tahersana said to him seems to me to show that promises of some sort were held out to him by the canvassers of both sides.

Paragraph 7 (viii).—I lastly take item No. (viii) which is the charge that Mr. Rahim invited a number of voters to Calcutta and brought them down here at his expense and entertained them there and so they voted for him.

I have already dealt with Khn Bahadur Golam Kasim, Golam Gafur, Abdul Baseque, Ismail Sardar, Nasibul Islam and Golam Afsar. Of the other voters mentioned I have been unable to trace Khater Gain (voter No. 70). Azahar Sardar's evidence is as follows:—Azahar Sardar says that an old man and a young man came to his village, the old man asked for his vote for Mr. Ariff and the young man for his vote for Mr. Rahim. He refused to vote for either of them saying that he did not know the candidates and they went away. After that he came to Calcutta and put up at 8, Golam Sobhan's Lane with Ismail Choudhury, a great supporter and neighbour of Mr. Rahim. He came in connection with a case to take advice from the Hon'ble Mr. Fazlul Haq as to the filing of an appeal before the District Judge of Khulna and was here 3 or 4 days. Ismail Choudhury then asked him if he had voted, and he said "I have not got my voting paper and I am not going to vote at all." Ismail Choudhury then said that he would arrange to get him a voting paper. He then said that he does not know the candidates. Ismail Choudhury then said, "Why waste a vote? Vote for Mr. Rahim." So he was taken to the Chief Secretary's office in Mr. Ismail Choudhury's car and there was given a paper on Mr. Ismail Choudhury's identification. He was then taken to the Registry office, identified by Mr. Rahim and voted. He admits that he did not find his voting paper when he got home. He denies that Mr. Ismail Choudhury had written to him to ask him to vote. Now a good deal of this is false. It is clear that as a matter of fact a telegram was sent to the Chief Secretary in his name on the 2nd of August asking that his voting paper should be sent to Mr. Rahim at 92, Ripon Street (a house close to 8, Golam Sobhan Lane), and that on the 3rd of August just as the paper was about to be sent to him care of Mr. Rahim, he came with Mr. Ismail Choudhury to the Chief Secretary's office and got the voting paper. For him therefore to say that he was not going to vote for anyone before he came to Calcutta is, it appears, false. It is argued, however, that a canvasser might have sent the telegram in his name. The inference appears to me that Azahar Sardar was fetched from his village in Bagerhat, Khulna, to vote in Calcutta. He could easily have voted at the local Registration office.

Reyasat Hossain is an inhabitant of Midnapur. His story is that he was away in Soban Thana some miles from Midnapur when his vote arrived at his house at Midnapur. His voting paper was left by the dak-walla with his uncle. When he came home, he asked his grandfather for whom he should vote and he told him to vote for Mr. Rahim. He had been much bothered for his vote for the Bengal Council and as he was coming to Calcutta he thought he would avoid being bothered by voting there before he came home again. When he came to Calcutta he stayed at Ellahi Bux's musafirkhana. Next day he hired a tica gharry and came to the Registration office to vote. He denies that he had any of his expenses paid. Of course he got free lodging in the musafirkhana. His story is extraordinarily difficult to believe. He voted as a matter of fact on the 25th, Tuesday. He does not know exactly when his voting paper was delivered, but presumably not before the 24th, as it was only posted on the 22nd and 23rd was a Sunday. He had then to consult his grandfather and various people and make his arrangement to come to Calcutta and then to vote the next day. As he said he arrived in Calcutta the evening before he voted he must have left Midnapur before 2 P.M. on the 24th. It is most improbable too that if he had come to Calcutta and was in Bux Ellahi's musafirkhana that he would be left, when Mr. Rahim had all motors at his disposal, to pay for his own tica gharry to come and vote.

Khaja Bux Mutwalli lives in the interior in the district of Howrah. He signed one of the printed forms of application that his voting paper should be sent to a place in Calcutta and his vote was accordingly sent to care of Abdul Majid of 31, Colootola Street. His letter is undated, but his new address was noted in the Secretariat before the voting papers were issued. This Abdul Majid is a supporter of Mr. Rahim and the voting paper of another voter (No. 192) was sent to his address. The voter says the letter was written for his vote by one Azizul Haq whereas it is a printed form with gaps typed in. Though he was ill he said that he walked the whole way from Colootola to the Registration office. It is also noteworthy that he came to see a doctor but he never saw one. Nothing is proved directly in respect of these three voters getting their expenses paid, but their voting here is extremely suspicious.

Uzirali Sardar says that he came to Belgachia to see a nephew who was ill though he stayed in another house and he came in a motor car sent by Mr. Rahim and voted at the Registration office. He had obviously been in Calcutta some time before he voted and it would appear that his voting paper was sent on to him from his village. There is nothing to suspect about his case.

As to Shah Alam to whom I have already referred in dealing with the affair at Magra Hât he appears to regularly live in Calcutta in Belvedere Road, Alipur. He says that he went by tram to the Calcutta Registration office to vote, though the Alipur Registration office was just opposite his door. I do not believe him. If Mr. Rahim as is admitted took him in a first class reserved carriage at his expense to Magra Hât when he went to see the other voters of that district there, he could surely have afforded to send to Alipur a motor car to fetch him to vote at Calcutta.

The other voters who voted in Calcutta I have already dealt with in dealing with the allegations about what happened at Magra Hât and Basirhat.

To sum up, I hold that the affidavits on which Mr. Ariff's petition was drafted are as a whole absolutely worthless. As to the specific charges it may be specially noted that neither candidate can give a full account of his expenses (there is no rule compelling them to keep accounts). The expenses which Mr. Rahim admits he incurred were fairly considerable; his firm spent large sums over motor cars, and he had admittedly paid four canvassers to "nurse" a very small number of voters and maintained canvassers for no less than 6 months. He also paid their expenses and the travelling expenses of some of his servants and unpaid canvassers. His estimate therefore that he spent only Rs. 1,000 on this head is too low. Mr. Ariff's excuse for not giving me any accounts seems rather futile. I find the charge that Mr. Rahim corruptly gave a subscription to the Provincial Muhammadan Educational Conference at Burdwan is not true.

As to the charge that with a view to secure votes Mr. Rahim gave a series of feasts, nautches and other entertainments in Calcutta, Dum-Dum and mufassal there is absolutely no evidence except that he invited two voters whom he had got on to the roll, to a dinner party in the middle of April and they did not accept the invitation.

Of the charges that he brought various voters from mufassal to Calcutta paying their expenses and lodging them in houses provided by himself I do not hold that Mr. Rahim has cleared himself. Mr. Ariff no doubt produced no evidence. His position throughout the enquiry appears to have been that he had withdrawn his petition and did not wish to fight the matter further. He has only been compelled to do so under the orders of Government. It appears that though he made this general allegation he had no evidence in support of it at the time when he briefed Sir S. P. Sinha and it appears that the allegation was looked on by Sir S. P. Sinha as a minor charge and that no evidence was forthcoming. All the evidence in this matter, I had to collect myself by summoning the voters and examining the voting papers and the Secretariat files in support of it. The voting of Goham Gafar, Abdul Baseque, Ismail Sardar, Azahar Sardar, Reyasat Hossain, Khaja Bux Mutwalli, Uzirali Sardar, Nasibal Islam Molla and Goham Afsar Molla in Calcutta appears to have been quite unnecessary, considering that some of these voters are comparatively poor people and the explanations they have given for their presence in Calcutta is in many cases obviously false. They had given what must be false evidence as to how they came to the voting places after their arrival in Calcutta as Mr. Rahim had plenty of cars to bring them to his favourite polling booth and the election was so keen that he was not likely to put them to the expense of coming there from their lodgings, as he could legally use his motor cars for the purpose. I hold that there is a very strong inference that they must have come to stay and vote at Calcutta at Mr. Rahim's expense.

As to the charge in respect of offering a bribe to Moulvi Izad Bux, pleader of Chinsura, the evidence is not satisfactory, but that there was a rumour that promises of money were about for votes is proved by his own conduct in refusing to vote at all.

The charge that Mr. Rahim offered money and a promise of an appointment (to be obtained through Sir Shamsul Huda) to Nowsherwan Jah in order to obtain his uncle's vote I find not proved, though in this connection it would appear that the canvassers of Mr. Rahim were giving out without authority that Sir Shamsul Huda was supporting Mr. Rahim's candidature. Such a statement no doubt would be a considerable asset for Mr. Rahim among the Bengali voters, who are as a whole not very literate people and many of whom are only small shopkeepers, who might be misled into thinking that such a statement was an order from Government.

As to the charge about the way in which Mr. Rahim obtained the second vote of Abdul Aziz there is no evidence that threats were used or that there was promise of money. The canvasser of this voter Rashid has avoided coming to this Court, he being in Delhi. It would have been useless for me under the circumstances to have had him examined in Delhi on commission (his absence I interpret is that he had something to conceal). The evidence of Abdul Aziz shows that he voted a second time probably in return for a motor drive. In this connection I would bring to notice that the matter of issuing duplicate voting papers and issuing voting papers without the name of the voters on them appears to have enabled canvassers and candidates to have voting papers to hand for any voter when necessary.

As to the affair at Magra Hat my finding is that Mr. Rahim engaged Fazle Rahaman to look after two voters there at an extremely high cost and that Fazle Rahaman gave a feast to these voters and to Mr. Rahim on a style much above his ordinary way of living. The charge that he promised pecuniary help to the voters who were in financial difficulties is clearly not proved and appears to be false. The charge that he promised his canvasser help is also not proved, but even if he did it would be no reason for these voters if they otherwise had intended to vote for Mr. Ariff, to have voted for him as they would not have been at all benefited by the improvement of Fazle Rahaman's mosque.

As to the Basirhat affair, I find that so far as Ismail was concerned there is no evidence that Mr. Rahim offered him anything and the evidence that Mr. Rahim's servant, Abdul Gafur Khan, offered him anything is also not sufficient. It is at least significant that it is said Ismail asked for help because the Basirhat musjid was to be repaired, but it is not alleged that Mr. Rahim offered to help in the repair of the Basirhat Musjid till some days after Abdul Gafur Khan's visit to Colutola. As to the charge in respect of paying of debts of the other voters, especially the Khan Bahadur, I believe it to be a false charge. As to the question of the repair to the mosque Mr. Rahim admits (though he says no voters were present at the time) that when he left the mosque some people showed him that it needed repairs and he did give out hopes that the people of Basirhat might expect a subscription from him towards the repairs. I do not believe the evidence that at the Dāk Bungalow he definitely promised this, nor do I believe that the letter which came to me anonymously purporting to have been sent to Abdul Baseque is anything else but a forgery. On the other hand, the fact that when he was out canvassing he held out hopes to the people of Basirhat that he might subscribe to the repair of the mosque might certainly influence the Basirhat voters who on a previous occasion had voted for Mr. Ariff, and it would be unlikely that the two resident voters of Basirhat would vote contrary to the general wishes of their co-religionists when their co-religionists believed that by their voting for Mr. Rahim their musjid in which they obviously take great pride would be improved.

The charge that Mr. Rahim has lent money to Kamaluddin to enable him to proceed to England is not substantiated.

The charge that Gyasuddin Mistry was threatened and so voted for Mr. Rahim who was a Municipal Commissioner, Gyasuddin having a stall in the Municipal Market, is also not proved. Gyasuddin appears to be a quite illiterate person and only to have voted for Mr. Rahim as his motor was sent to take him to the poll.

The charge that Mr. Rahim promised help to Abdul in writing and when he found that Abdul Gani had voted for Mr. Ariff that he paid him Rs. 1,000 to get back the letter is I hold an absolutely false story and too absurd to be believed.

As to the record of the vote of Tahersana at Khulna, I find on the evidence that no money passed in the way alleged. I will not say no money passed at all. The only respectable witness on Mr. Ariff's side in respect of this matter, Dr. Surhawardy, never saw it and the whole story is most improbable. On the other hand from Dr. Surhawardy's own evidence I consider it may be fairly inferred that canvassers on both sides were holding out promises to Tahersana for his vote. The way in which Tahersana was pressed by both sides at the time of his recording his vote and the methods pursued by both sides, including Dr. Surhawardy, to get the vote recorded in favour of their candidates shows how keen the election was.

I consider that a large number of witnesses on both sides had deliberately perjured themselves, that there is good reason to believe that in certain respects Mr. Rahim had transgressed the Regulation as to corrupt practices; but that most of the evidence on which Mr. Ariff relied is palpably false.

(B) As to the circumstances attending on and the terms of an Agreement alleged between Mr. Abdur Rahim and Mr. Ariff which were communicated to Hon'ble Mr. Monahan on the 21st of November 1916.

I have examined Counsel concerned in the case and taken the statement of Mr. Ariff and Mr. Rahim as well as of Mr. Monahan himself. Mr. Ariff says that he first knew of illegal practices on the part of Mr. Rahim before the election was complete. He had heard about the Basirhat affair from his friend Ismail Ibrahim Salehji who had been there on the 19th July. He must have heard of the Magra Hat affair too before the election was complete, as affidavits regarding them were sworn at Diamond Harbour on the 9th August. He says he did not hear of the Khulna affair till Kazi Menatulla told him when he came to stay with him in August. He sent his friend Muhammad Amin to enquire into what happened at Magra Hat and he had Narendra Nath Singha also to assist him in procuring evidence. As to the letter alleged to be written to Abdul Baseque he said that he had promised not to use it. He engaged Hon'ble Mr. B. N. Basu, Attorney, and Mr. B. C. Mitter, Standing Counsel, and Mr. N. N. Sarkar, to draft his petition and Dr. Sarhawardy appears to have been also consulted at the time it was being drawn up. Mr. N. N. Sarkar says the affidavits were discussed and

The memorial was then sent in with the affidavits. It was then that Mr. Ariff collected no further evidence except to get two letters of invitation and to try and trace the notes said to be given to Abdul Gani. Mr. Rahim, on the other hand, says that he also made enquiries while the election was on as to whether Mr. Ariff had engaged in corrupt practices and he got information that Mr. Ariff had paid voters' expenses and threatened voters to put them to trouble unless they voted for him. He says that subsequently, after he heard of Mr. Ariff's petition, he also found that Mr. Ariff had paid money to certain voters for their votes. He consulted his solicitors but no counter-charges were made and Counsel for Mr. Rahim informed me while I was examining Mr. Rahim on the 24th January that the charges were not communicated to Mr. Ariff before that moment. It next appears that shortly before the enquiry, which was fixed on the 21st of November, Sir S. P. Sinha, who as a matter of fact had received an open brief from Mr. Pugh, Solicitor for Mr. Rahim, and had forgotten about it, was engaged by Mr. Ariff, Mr. Pugh taking back the brief, and there was briefed to him only the memorial and the affidavits attached. Sir Ali Imam had counter-charges briefed to him. Late in the week preceding that of Mr. Monahan's enquiry it appears clear that Mr. Rahim and his father, Khan Bahadur Ellahi Bux, C.I.E., were trying to have the matter settled. Mr. Abdul Aziz, a barrister, who received a fee of Rs 500 in connection with this case from Mr. Rahim and who, though he was given a copy of Mr. Rahim's brief, did not take active part in the case, says that Hazi Ellahi Bux first approached some delegates to a Muhammadan conference which was being held in connection with the Congress, and that when he was staying in the Grand Hotel Hazi Bux Ellahi, Mr. Rahim's father, came to him and took him to see one Musur Ali, a Delhi man, who was also staying in the Hotel, and asked him if any settlement could be come to with Mr. Ariff. It further appears that one Fakruddin from Cawnpur and Ismail Putnasi of Delhi who had come to Calcutta especially in connection with the case also went to Mr. Ariff on the Friday and pressed him not to proceed with the enquiry. Mr. Ariff says however he declined any compromise then. On the Saturday, Mr. Ariff says, Musur Ali came to him and pressed him to have the matter compromised and on Monday this gentleman pressed him again. Mr. Ariff finally told him that if his senior Counsel advises him to withdraw he will do so, otherwise not. On Monday afternoon Sir Ali Imam, who had arrived from Bankipur in the morning, had a consultation with Mr. Pugh and Mr. Chaudhuri to prepare for the case on Tuesday. Before the consultation Musur Ali paid him a visit and in conversation expressed his regret that the Muhammadan society in Calcutta was so sharply divided in this dispute and asked him to see Mr. Ariff. Sir Ali Imam naturally refused. Musur Ali then went off and came back to say that there was a disposition on the part of Mr. Ariff to have the matter settled. Sir Ali Imam consulted Mr. A. N. Chaudhuri and Mr. Pugh and it was held that a compromise by reference to arbitration would not be legal. Counsel then continued to prepare themselves for the case. Sir Ali Imam says that later in the evening Musur Ali came again to him and suggested that the matter should be decided on the advice which he (Sir Ali Imam) and Sir S. P. Sinha should jointly give. Sir Ali Imam then thought that Mr. Rahim would accept the proposal. Sir Ali Imam was visited by Mr. B. N. Basu (Mr. Ariff's solicitor) the same evening and Mr. B. N. Basu said that if both sides were agreeable

Sir S. P. Sinha and Sir Ali Imam should decide what was to be done. The same evening Sir S. P. Sinha was holding a consultation at his house with his client (Mr. Ariff) and he advised Mr. Ariff after reading the affidavits and understanding that there was little more evidence than what was contained in them, that most of the evidence given in the affidavits was positively worthless (a good deal of it being mere hearsay) and there might be difficulty in connecting Mr. Rahim with the charges brought. In my opinion too most of the affidavits are either false or pure hearsay. In the morning of the 21st Counsel on both sides were again engaged in preparing their case, but when Sir Ali Imam and Sir S. P. Sinha met at the Commissioner's office in consequence of what Sir S. P. Sinha was told by Mr. Basu and Mr. Ariff to the effect that both parties were willing to hold an arbitration, Sir S. P. Sinha and Sir Ali Imam had a consultation. There had been a proposal to come to arbitration with Sir S. P. Sinha and Sir Ali Imam as Arbitrators and either Sir Ashutosh Mukerjee, Mr. Langford James or Mr. Hossain Imam as Umpire. This was rejected. Sir Ali Imam and Sir S. P. Sinha then both knew that there was this proposal and Sir S. P. Sinha further was aware that his affidavits were worthless and Sir Ali Imam was aware that he had counter-charges. The two Counsels went before Mr. Monahan and asked for a short adjournment saying to him that probably he would not be further troubled if an adjournment was granted till after lunch. What were the exact words used, Mr. Monahan cannot remember. Sir S. P. Sinha does not think that the word "settlement" was used, but Mr. Monahan's impression is that it was used. Sir Ali Imam is uncertain. Having got an adjournment till 2-30 Sir S. P. Sinha and Sir Ali Imam went each with their briefs to Sir S. P. Sinha's chamber at the top of the High Court and considered the position. The chief thing considered was whether the case set up by Mr. Ariff could be proved, and the Counsel both came to the conclusion that the evidence was not strong enough to prove the charges and the best course would be that Mr. Ariff should withdraw unreservedly. The counter-charges were mentioned by Sir Ali Imam, but they did not weigh with Sir S. P. Sinha in coming to his conclusion. Sir S. P. Sinha and Sir Ali Imam went back before Mr. Monahan and Sir S. P. Sinha informed Mr. Monahan that the charges were unreservedly withdrawn. Mr. Monahan asked if Sir Ali Imam agreed and he said "Yes." As to the word "settlement" Sir Ali Imam says that it might have been used but only as meaning that the matter would be at an end. Neither of the Counsels, when the case was withdrawn, knew of any compromise nor have they heard of any agreement between Mr. Rahim and Mr. Ariff either before or after the proceedings before Mr. Monahan. After that Mr. Rahim and Mr. Ariff shook hands.

Mr. Ariff had Mr. Rahim to dinner that night and the next evening Mr. Ariff was present at a tea party given by Mr. Rahim to Sir Ali Imam. It appears that when Musur Ali made the proposal to Mr. Rahim, that Mr. Ariff might withdraw, Musur stated that there was someone who wanted Rs. 5,000, and when Sir Ali Imam was leaving Howrah station and saying good-bye to Mr. Rahim, Mr. Rahim stated that this demand had been renewed. Mr. Rahim says that he was threatened that if the money was not paid there might be a further enquiry. As to this Rs. 5,000 which Musur Ali is said to have demanded, it had been also spoken of by Mr. Abdul Aziz, who says that it was required by Mr. B. C. Mitter, Standing Counsel's servant. I think it is much more likely that it was an unscrupulous attempt by Musur Ali to get some money for himself. It appears that after the case was withdrawn, a large number of telegrams were sent all over India, copies of which I have attached. In most of those sent by Mr. Rahim and his party it was said simply that the case was withdrawn, but in one or two that the case was settled. Mr. Ariff's telegrams said that the case was settled or compromised, and in one the remark was added "Prestige maintained". It is no doubt that Mr. Ariff, even if he had to withdraw under legal advice for lack of evidence, would not be likely to admit to his friends that he did so and would therefore be likely to talk about it as a settlement. On the evidence adduced I must consider that the statements which Sir Ali Imam and Sir S. P. Sinha have given clearly show the real state of affairs. It appears to me that the charges were withdrawn unconditionally mainly because Mr. Ariff had only the affidavits to go on which were also worthless. But at the same time it might have been possible for Mr. Ariff to have produced more evidence, e.g., the story of Menatulla who appears to be a man of some position was kept back, what Dr. Surhawardy really knew about the affairs of Khulna was kept out of the affidavits and not briefed to Sir S. P. Sinha and no evidence really was put before Sir S. P. Sinha as to the treating of witnesses and bringing them to Calcutta at the candidate's expense, though Mr. Ariff said in his evidence before me that he himself followed voters to 8, Golum Sobhan's Lane, and saw they were lodging there. The charges were therefore withdrawn and no terms were made, but it is also clear from the evidence that there was a talk of a settlement going on, certainly from Friday, the 17th November, one proposal being that Mr. Rahim should retire. It is also clear that Fakruddin and Ismail Putnasi had specially come to Calcutta to try and prevent the enquiry being held and settle the matter and that one Musur Ali who was at Delhi was being used as a go-between in the negotiations. The fact that Mr. B. N. Basu, Solicitor for Mr. Ariff, found it necessary to see Sir Ali Imam on the night before the enquiry shows clearly that the parties were seeing if the matter could be kept out of Court.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4—The 1st May 1917.—The following draft of (1) revised rules and (2) revised schedules of rates of tolls, which the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Midnapore Canal, and its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of those portions of Bengal Government Notification No. 98, dated the 4th April 1893, as amended by subsequent notifications, and of Notification No. 3, dated the 17th May 1906, which relate to the Midnapore Canal, with branch to Naraingar, is published, as required by section 12 of that Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th June 1917, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel entering or passing along the Midnapore Canal, or its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on this line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

- (a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.
- (b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.
- (c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.
- (d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c), is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along the said line of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the line of navigation for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which it is granted, and at the station from which it is issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	... One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	... Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	... Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

- (1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in the canal or its branch by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.
- (2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal or its branch.
- (3) Exemption from payment of demurrage or tolls may be granted to vessels while waiting for cargo or for any other purpose at the places on the Midnapore Canal fixed by the Superintending Engineer for such purposes which include Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal, Panskura to Dainan. Such exemption will not extend over a period of more than three months in each case.

If the person in charge of any vessel, on the completion of a voyage or on entering the canal, wishes his vessel to remain in any of the free ghats in the line of navigation he shall give up his toll ticket at the nearest toll station, specifying the particular ghat where he wishes to keep his vessel and shall take out a fresh ticket from such toll station before leaving such ghat. On failure to comply with this provision he shall be liable to demurrage charge as provided in this rule, which shall be recoverable as toll.

- (4) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

- (a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds—(from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona-fide loading or unloading, or both, in the canals to—

	Days,
Cargo boats from 10 to 100 maunds of measurement ...	5
" " 110 to 200 " " " " ...	8
" " 210 to 300 " " " " ...	10
" " 310 to 400 " " " " ...	12
" " 410 to 500 " " " " ...	14
" of over 500 maunds—for every additional 100 maunds. ...	3
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards ...	5

9. Vessels are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise at the Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal—Panskura to Dainan; but they are allowed to be loaded and unloaded only at the Kayali ghats and the free ghats in the 6th Reach. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these rules, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

The places at which vessels can be ordinarily loaded or unloaded in any Reach of the line of navigation are notified at the locks in the Reach, and no vessel without the previous permission of the Toll Collector (who should without delay inform the Executive Engineer of his permission having been granted), can be allowed to load or unload at any other place. Should any vessel be loaded or unloaded at any place other than those notified and without the said permission having been obtained, the person in charge of the vessel and the consignor or consignee of the goods shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 for each offence.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows:—

Ulubaria.—Between the Ulubaria Lock and the Banspati Khal.

Bansbaria.—Between the Bansbaria Lock and the Damodar river.

Kultapara.—Between the Kultapara Lock and the Damodar river.

Kantapukur.—Between the Kantapukur Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Dainan.—Between the Dainan Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura east Lock and the Cossye river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura west Lock and the Cossye river.

Mohunpur.—Between the Mohunpur Lock and the Cossye river.

No boat will be allowed, under any circumstances, to drop an anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock entrance or in the canal, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; but straw boats of 20 feet width including overhangings (the overhangings beyond 19 feet being entirely straw) may be passed through the locks of the Main Canal; also no vessel exceeding 50 feet in length and 10½ feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Naraingar Distributary.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along the canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or the right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in the canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. No steamer passing any vessel must proceed at a greater speed than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and attendants.—Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. No towing rope of a greater length than 100 feet is to be used in the canal. The throwing of cinders into the canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation, or of a part of it, may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not fartheaming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the "Canals Act," undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner prescribed in section 9 of the Act.

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred, any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of the abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours: provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the Act.

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in these rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canal and its branch may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency they may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1916-17.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1914-15 averaged (a) 38·1 per cent and (b) 18·8 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—Excessive rainfall in the months of September and October delayed sowings in the more important wheat-growing districts; and heavy showers in November prevented further sowings besides causing considerable damage to the crop already sown. A spell of dry weather then followed right up to the end of January and the crop suffered through want of moisture. There was rain in February, but it came too late to be of any real benefit to the crop. On the whole the season may be regarded as rather unsatisfactory.

Area sown.—The total area sown this year is estimated at 128,800 acres against 133,600 acres last year. The decrease in area is attributed to excessive rain at the time of sowing.

Outturn.—The outturns in the most important wheat-growing districts are as follows :—Malda 80 per cent., Murshidabad 92 per cent., Nadia 58 per cent., and Pabna 80 per cent. According to the District Officers' estimates the total outturn of the Province works out to 81 per cent. as against 78 per cent. of the normal obtained last year. Accepting $10\frac{1}{2}$ maunds as the normal yield per acre, the total yield for the Province is estimated to be 40,241 tons against 40,195 tons last year.

At the end of April the average wholesale price of wheat at the principal marts of the Province was Rs. 5-3-6 per maund or 2 per cent. higher than the price ruling at the same time last year, and 12 per cent. lower than that in 1915. The average wholesale price of common rice for the Province, on the other hand, at the end of April was 12 and 13 per cents. lower than the corresponding rates for 1916 and 1915, respectively.

OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

THIRD AND FINAL FORECAST OF THE SPRING OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1916-17.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under linseed in Bengal represents some 5·7 per cent, and that under rape and mustard 20·8 per cent, of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Character of the season.—Excessive rainfall in September and October retarded sowings generally. The heavy showers in the first part of November checked further sowings and caused some damage to the crops already sown. Since then total absence of rain interfered with the development of the crops to some extent. The season may be regarded as generally unfavourable on the whole.

Acreage.—The total area under oilseed crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are published) is estimated at 1,421,300 acres against 1,546,200 acres last year or a decrease of about 8 per cent. The decrease is attributed to excessive rainfall at sowing time.

Outturn.—According to district officers' estimates the total outturn of the different kinds of oilseeds (excepting til) for the Province as a whole works out to 85 per cent. against 79 per cent. of the normal last year.

Taking 6 maunds per acre as the normal rate of yield for linseed, rape and mustard and $4\frac{1}{2}$ maunds per acre for other oilseeds, the total yield of all kinds of spring oilseeds (excepting til) is estimated at 267,400 tons against 266,000 tons of last year.

Dre.	Linseed	24,000	15,300	14,100	70	50	January. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to the fact that some lands sown last year were still under water at the time of cultivation this year. About 50 per cent. of the crop has been subsequently damaged for want of rain.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR APRIL 1917.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall during the month was above the normal in Khulna, Howrah, Rajshahi, Pabna, Faridpur, Bakarganj and in all the districts of the Chittagong Division. In the rest of the Province, however, the fall was below the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—The harvesting of summer paddy was in progress, but that of other rabi crops was nearing completion. Sowing of autumn paddy and jute continued, but the progress was slow in places for want of sufficient rainfall. Weeding was commenced in some of the eastern districts.

III. State of standing crops.—The state of the standing crops was, as a rule, fairly satisfactory. Excessive rainfall in the Chittagong Division and insufficient rainfall in most of the districts of the Rajshahi Division, however, somewhat affected the growth of the crops.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—So far the prospects of jute and autumn paddy were hopeful.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Heavy rain accompanied with hailstorms caused some injury to the standing crops in the Chittagong Division.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was fair. The number of districts from which cattle-disease was reported during the month varied from eight to twelve.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The scarcity of fodder was felt in parts of the Dacca and Mymensingh districts.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review, the prices of common rice rose in four districts, fell in three and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from eight seers per rupee at Darjeeling and Chittagong Hill Tracts to twelve seers at Bankura.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people was reported to be fairly good.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel entering or passing along the Midnapore Canal, or its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on this line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

- (a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.
- (b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.
- (c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.
- (d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c), is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along the said line of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the line of navigation for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which it is granted, and at the station from which it is issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	... One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	... Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	... Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

- (1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in the canal or its branch by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.
- (2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal or its branch.
- (3) Exemption from payment of demurrage or tolls may be granted to vessels while waiting for cargo or for any other purpose at the places on the Midnapore Canal fixed by the Superintending Engineer for such purposes which include Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal, Panskura to Dainan. Such exemption will not extend over a period of more than three months in each case.

If the person in charge of any vessel, on the completion of a voyage or on entering the canal, wishes his vessel to remain in any of the free ghats in the line of navigation he shall give up his toll ticket at the nearest toll station, specifying the particular ghat where he wishes to keep his vessel and shall take out a fresh ticket from such toll station before leaving such ghat. On failure to comply with this provision he shall be liable to demurrage charge as provided in this rule, which shall be recoverable as toll.

- (4) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

- (a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds—(from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona-fide loading or unloading, or both, in the canals to—

		Days.
Cargo boats from	10 to 100 maunds of measurement	... 5
" " "	110 to 200 " "	... 8
" " "	210 to 300 " "	... 10
" " "	310 to 400 " "	... 12
" " "	410 to 500 " "	... 14
" " "	of over 500 maunds—for every additional 100 maunds.	... 3
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards		... 5

9. Vessels are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise at the Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal—Panskura to Dainan; but they are allowed to be loaded and unloaded only at the Kayali ghats and the free ghats in the 6th Reach. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these rules otherwise demurrage will be charged.

The places at which vessels can be ordinarily loaded or unloaded in any Reach of the line of navigation are notified at the locks in the Reach, and no vessel without the previous permission of the Toll Collector (who should without delay inform the Executive Engineer of his permission having been granted), can be allowed to load or unload at any other place. Should any vessel be loaded or unloaded at any place other than those notified and without the said permission having been obtained, the person in charge of the vessel and the consignor or consignee of the goods shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 for each offence.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows:—

Ulubaria.—Between the Ulubaria Lock and the Banspati Khal.

Bansbaria.—Between the Bansbaria Lock and the Damodar river.

Kultapara.—Between the Kultapara Lock and the Damodar river.

Kantapukur.—Between the Kantapukur Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Dainan.—Between the Dainan Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura east Lock and the Cossye river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura west Lock and the Cossye river.

Mohunpur.—Between the Mohunpur Lock and the Cossye river.

No boat will be allowed, under any circumstances, to drop an anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock entrance or in the canal, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; but straw boats of 20 feet width including overhangings (the overhangings beyond 19 feet being entirely straw) may be passed through the locks of the Main Canal; also no vessel exceeding 50 feet in length and 10½ feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Naraingar Distributary.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along the canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or the right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in the canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. No steamer passing any vessel must proceed at a greater speed than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and attendants.—Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. No towing rope of a greater length than 100 feet is to be used in the canal. The throwing of cinders into the canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation, or of a part of it, may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the "Canals Act," undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner prescribed in section 9 of the Act.

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred, any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of the abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours; provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the Act.

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in these rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canal and its branch may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency they may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

RANGPUR, the 14th May 1917.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

General Letter No. 6.

To

THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF

Dated Calcutta, the 4th May 1917.

SIR,

Rules 4 and 6 of Order XIII of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, require certain particulars to be endorsed by the court on documents produced as evidence in a suit. Occasionally, however, though it may be rarely, documents are produced which are of great historic or antiquarian value, such as old sanads or grants, and it is obvious that such documents may be seriously injured by the usual endorsements. A case has recently been brought to the notice of the Judges in which a too rigid adherence to rules intended for the great mass of ordinary documents has led to an old and valuable State Sanad being subjected to flagrant maltreatment. The Judges desire, therefore, that the following observations may be borne in mind by all courts.

2. It is no doubt important that the identity of a document produced in court and acted upon should be placed beyond question in view of a possible appeal or of possible future proceedings, and in fact the Privy Council have very recently drawn attention to the "wholesome provision" contained in Order XIII, rule 4, and have laid it down that they "will, in order to prevent injustice, be obliged, in future, on the hearing of Indian appeals, to refuse to read or permit to be used any document not endorsed in the manner required." (Sadik Husain Khan versus Hashim Ali Khan, L. R. 43 I. A., 212, at page 237; I. L. R., 38 All., 627, at pages 663-664.)

3. The rules on the subject must of course be strictly followed in dealing with all documents of the kind which ordinarily come before the courts, such as the Privy Council had in contemplation. But cases so exceptional as those now under consideration admit of exceptional treatment, and when a document of historical or antiquarian interest is in question, the court before which it is produced should make every possible endeavour to prevent its being defaced by endorsements and exhibit marks or by having the Seal of the Court impressed upon it. If the presiding

Judge will use his common sense, some means of avoiding such disfigurement will probably suggest itself. The parties will probably agree to a photographic copy being substituted for the original, or the document may be enclosed in a sealed cover, or in a locked and sealed box, the necessary particulars being endorsed on the outside. If other means fail, careful measures should be taken for the safe custody of the document pending instructions from higher authority.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

H. M. VEITCH,

Registrar.

INDIAN DEFENCE FORCE.

RESOLUTION.

No. 777.—The Government of India have noted with concern the disappointing response which has been made to the opportunity afforded to the people of India of enrolling themselves for service in the Indian Defence Force; and since they have also observed, in the press and elsewhere, that the conditions of that service have been a good deal criticised, they deem it advisable to recapitulate briefly the circumstances in which the scheme was initiated, and to explain the necessity of the conditions which at present apply to it.

Owing to the prolongation of the war, and the enforcement of universal military service in England, it was thought desirable to impose some obligation of a similar nature upon every European British subject of military age in India. Under these circumstances, though there was no necessity for a corresponding measure applicable to Indian subjects of His Majesty, the Governor-General in Council was anxious that the opportunity should be afforded to Indians also to enrol themselves in the Indian Defence Force. He was aware that there had for long been a desire that volunteering should be thrown open to Indian as well as to European British subjects, and was assured that, if that opportunity could be afforded to them, a ready and enthusiastic response would be made. Since, with the passing of the Indian Defence Force Act, volunteering on the old basis practically ceased to exist, it was proposed to provide other means by which Indians could come forward and offer their services for the defence of India as a part of the general military organisation of the country, and this proposal was accepted by the Indian Legislative Council and embodied in the Act.

It should be obvious that, during the progress of the greatest war in history, it was not possible to reorganise or modify radically the general conditions governing the military service of the country, and that any endeavour to do so might only result in deferring the day of final victory to which India, in common with the rest of His Majesty's Dominions, is so earnestly looking forward. It has therefore been a source of keen disappointment to the Governor-General in Council to observe, from utterances on the public platform and in the press, that the conditions of service in the Defence Force, which are the same as those applying to His Majesty's Indian forces in the regular army, have been represented as being such as to deter volunteers from coming forward for the defence of their country.

The leaders of Indian opinion are doubtless aware that the pay of the Territorial force in England was the same as that of the regular army, and that men of position and means in the United Kingdom, and even in distant parts of the Empire, did not think it derogatory to join the ranks both of the Territorials and of the new army and to serve as private soldiers shoulder to shoulder with those of other classes; and many of them have given their lives in such service in France and elsewhere during the present war. They asked no questions as to pay or other conditions; they put forward no pretensions or demands; their one ambition was to serve their country in her hour of need, and their memories will ever be honoured by the nations in whose defence they fought.

The Governor-General in Council was assured that a similar ambition prevailed in India, and that it was only necessary to throw open the ranks of the Defence Force to Indians to secure a hearty response. At a time when military organisations are strained to the uttermost, it was not possible to provide for the training of an indefinite number of small units all over the country on such a scale as to place a newly constituted force of this character upon an efficient basis. Endeavour was, however, made to afford such facilities as were possible to those who were anxious to enrol themselves in the service of their country, and arrangements were made in the first instance for recruiting six battalions of a thousand men each at convenient centres. It was fully anticipated that further expansion might be required as the movement developed, but it was thought that a reasonable commencement might be made on these lines, and the military authorities were satisfied that this was all that they could undertake at the outset. It is, therefore, a matter of disappointment to the Government of India to find that, during the first two months after the passing of the Act, only 300 men have been enrolled in place of the 6,000 for which preparations were made. It is felt that all who take an interest in the Defence Force, and believe in those sentiments of patriotism which have brought it into being, and who have the good name of India at heart, will be disheartened to learn that out of the six months for which recruiting is open so much time should have elapsed without any adequate response being made.

The Government of India recognise that the conditions of service in the Defence Force may be open to criticism in some respects; but, as has already been stated, it was impossible to recast the existing organisation during the continued pressure of a great emergency, and all that could be attempted was to engraft the new force on to the Great Indian Army which was already in being.

There are doubtless particular conditions of service in the Indian Army which may be thought to be unsuitable to men who enrol themselves in the new force, and the Government of India have no hesitation in declaring that considerations of this sort will always be taken into account, and that, so far as is consistent with the maintenance of the necessary standard of discipline, sympathetic treatment will be accorded to all those who come forward voluntarily to serve their country.

The Government of India are also aware of Indian aspirations with reference to commissioned rank. It is, however, perfectly well known that this matter is separately under consideration, and is engaging the earnest and sympathetic attention of Government. The whole framework of the Indian army is affected by that discussion, and it must be obvious to every thinking man that the enrolment of a purely temporary force constituted on a voluntary basis owing to the emergencies of a great war could not justify the hurried determination of so important and difficult a question in respect of which the Government of India are not the ultimate arbiters.

In conclusion, the Government of India deem it expedient to draw attention once more to the words of His Excellency the Viceroy in the speech which brought to a close the last meeting of the Indian Legislative Council—

“The Act is confessedly a war measure and therefore temporary, but it will prove a most invaluable experiment. We shall have—it is no secret, for he who runs may read—to re-organise our Indian army after this war, and some form of second line force will probably be required. In the Indian Defence Force, raised temporarily under stress of war, there may lie the germ of such new second line. Do not ask us at such a moment as this to give answers to problems which will have to be solved at a time when there is more leisure. When that time arrives, then criticise, as you will, the Government in respect of its policy. But for the moment I would assure you that all the subjects of your criticism are engaging our most sympathetic consideration, and I would ask your co-operation in making this present scheme a success, but do not let it be marred on the ground that it does not contain all that you would desire.”

These words were accepted in the spirit in which they were offered by the non-official members of the Council, and constitute a sufficient pledge of the earnest consideration by Government of the future needs of India. It is not claimed that the present scheme is perfect; it is admittedly in the nature of a makeshift; but it is the best that could be devised in the conditions obtaining at the moment, and it has great possibilities. That such a scheme, conceived in the general interests of Imperial defence, should, in spite of its modest dimensions, prove a hopeless failure at such a time and in a country which, whatever its deficiencies, is not lacking in man power, can hardly fail to create an impression throughout the Empire prejudicial to the good name of India. It is, therefore, the sincere hope of the Governor General in Council that the leaders of public opinion in this country will realise their full responsibilities in this matter, and take all possible steps forthwith to make the recruitment of these Indian units worthy of the name and aspirations of India.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be published under a notification in Part I of the Gazette of India. Ordered also, that it should be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations.

THE WORK OF THE FOREST DEPARTMENT IN INDIA.

Edited by R. S. TROUP, Esq., Assistant Inspector-General of Forests.

Super-royal 8vo, paper cover, 70 pp., with 13 full-page half-tone illustrations

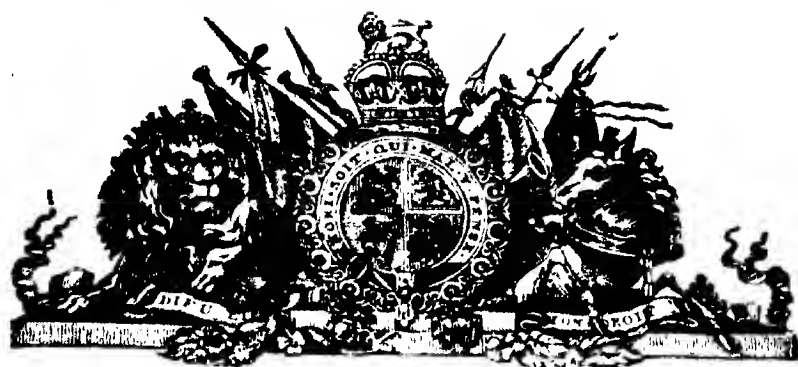

Price Four annas.

It may safely be said that there is hardly any Government Department in India whose work and aims are so little realized by the general public as are those of the Forest Department. For one thing the work of the forest officer lies for the most part in remote places, so that few have any knowledge of it. For another the practical results of forest work are apparent only after long periods of time, so that the forest officer has to cultivate the habit of thinking in half centuries and to be content that the full effect of his labours shall be visible only to future generations.

This publication is issued with the object of bringing together in popular form the main facts connected with the work of the Forest Department in India and of sketching the outlook for future expansion, particular attention being paid to the possibility of the local development of industries which depend to a greater or less extent on a plentiful supply of forest products. Information of these subjects is to be found scattered throughout the annual reports on forest administration which are issued by Provincial Governments and in the various publications of the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, but these are not readily available to the general public, and so it is hoped that this memorandum, which has been prepared by Mr. R. S. Troup, Assistant Inspector-General of Forests, with the assistance of selected officers of the Forest Department, may prove useful to those interested in the subject.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORT ON SURVEY AND CENSUS OF THE CATTLE OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

AGRICULTURE.

DARJEELING, THE 16TH MAY 1917.

RESOLUTION—No. 552T.R.

READ—

A report on a survey and census of the cattle of Bengal by Mr. J. R. Blackwood, I.C.S.

IN 1906 the Government of India drew the attention of Local Governments to a proposal made by the Inspector-General of the Civil Veterinary Department for the gradual preparation by the officers of the Department of a cattle survey throughout India. At that time the number of Veterinary Officers was very limited in Bengal and it was found impossible to take them away from their duties in connection with epidemics in order that they might begin the survey. In 1911 the Government of India decided that the detailed cattle survey throughout India should be preceded in each of the major provinces by a general preliminary survey of cattle on non-technical and economic lines, and they suggested that where officers of the Veterinary Department were not available the survey might be conducted by officers of the Indian Civil Service. Mr. J. R. Blackwood, I.C.S., was placed on special duty in November 1911 to carry out a general survey of cattle in Eastern Bengal and Assam; on the redistribution of Provinces he was appointed Director of Agriculture, Bengal, in May 1912, and he was directed to complete the survey in Assam as well as in the reconstituted Province of Bengal, and in consequence he was unable to submit his report until September 1915.

2. Apart from the figures which were collected by the Settlement Department in a few districts there were hitherto no statistics of an approximately reliable nature regarding cattle in Bengal. Owing to this fact and owing to the fact that there are no distinct breeds of indigenous cattle which are found to be widely distributed, Mr. Blackwood's survey was necessarily of a more detailed and technical nature than was at first contemplated. His statement of measurements of good cattle found in each district (Appendix X) was prepared from measurements taken by a Veterinary Officer and is probably accurate: as Mr. Blackwood explains, the cattle measured were not average animals but were selected as representing the types which are preferred. On the other hand the census figures do not claim complete accuracy as there was no machinery for the supervision requisite for securing such accuracy. The report is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of a subject on which previous information was very limited, and the Governor in Council desires to acknowledge the care which Mr. Blackwood has taken in studying the problems which presented themselves. In reviewing the report the Governor in Council has sought to define the conditions prevailing in Bengal, the explanation of those conditions, the extent to which the cattle now in use in Bengal serve the needs of the people, the objects which should be aimed at in the future, and the best means of obtaining those objects.

3. According to the figures compiled by Mr. Blackwood, the number of cattle in Bengal is 25,355,838. These figures include buffaloes, which amount to about 4 per cent. of the total. The number of human beings in Bengal is about 45½ million, thus for every 100 human beings in Bengal, there are 56 head of cattle, while in the British Isles for every 100 human beings there are 26 head of cattle. The conditions are of course widely different, but the comparison is not without interest.

4. Probably the first points which strike a stranger visiting rural Bengal are the fertility of the soil and the inferior quality of the cattle. In the plains of Bengal there is no tract in which the indigenous cattle are essentially different from those of any other tract: those of the Western Districts are larger than those of the Eastern Districts, but they are always small and generally underfed. Cattle are more numerous in the Burdwan, Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions than in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions. Out of 8,087,872 bullocks 12·5 per cent. are shown as imported, while out of 7,110,634 cows the percentage of imported animals is only 3·7. The imported cattle come mainly from Bihar and the United Provinces, but Manipuri bullocks are imported into Tippera district. The imported bullocks are stronger than local bullocks but their average life is much shorter. The milk yield of imported cows deteriorates when they are brought to Bengal, and the average annual yield of a good local cow, when a sufficient quantity of milk is given to the calf in the first 3 months, is less than 3 seers a day. The supply of good bulls is insufficient, and when good bulls are provided adequate arrangements are not made for feeding and exercising them : consequently extensive use is made of inferior and immature bulls. There is a tendency towards the reduction of the area available for grazing and the most valuable fodder crops do not grow well in the districts of Eastern Bengal. In the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions and in Burdwan district there is a tendency for buffaloes to replace bullocks for cart traction.

5. These conditions are largely explained by economic causes. The generally inferior quality of the plough cattle is due to the fertility of the soil and to the smallness of holdings. Where the cultivators have limited needs and can get a good crop without deep ploughing they are content to employ weak cattle. Recent enquiries in Dacca district show that the average area of holdings is 2·80 acres and that there are 2 plough bullocks for every 7 acres of cultivated land. In his report on 'Cattle and Dairying in the Punjab' published in 1910, Mr. Stow estimated that there were in the Punjab 2 plough-bullocks for every 15 acres of cultivated land. The practice of combination in the ploughing of land is followed to a limited extent in Bengal, but its adoption on a large scale requires a development of the co-operative spirit which has not yet been reached. The tenant of a small holding naturally prefers to have his own plough and cattle, and when the holding is small he does not consider it worth his while to keep and feed plough cattle of a quality superior to the lowest which is necessary for the work he has for them. There are more cattle in Western Bengal and Rajshahi Division than in the districts of the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions because in the latter area the proportion of cultivated land is higher, and extensive floods make it unprofitable to keep, during the rains, cattle in excess of the minimum number required : moreover in the latter area carts are much fewer. Mr. Blackwood is no doubt correct in his view that the damp climate of Bengal is unfavourable to the development of strong and vigorous cattle, and it is obvious that the portions of the Eastern Districts which are liable to annual floods do not admit of the exercise which is required for young animals. The deficiency of pasture, especially in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, also makes the country unsuited for cattle-breeding. The decrease in pasture is due to the high prices obtained for food-crops, and to the consequently greater profit made by cultivating land than by leaving it fallow for grazing. It must be borne in mind, however, that an abundance of pasture land, if accompanied by a damp climate, is practically no safeguard against the rapid deterioration of cattle. This is well exemplified by the experience of the neighbouring province of Assam. The want of good bulls and the use of immature bulls, and the insufficiency of the milk supplied to calves are other important causes of the poor breed of cattle in Bengal.

6. As regards the degree in which existing conditions meet the needs of the people, there are two common complaints, viz., that the price of milk is unduly high and that cows yield less milk and are less numerous than they used to be. These results are commonly attributed to the decrease of pasture and it is frequently taken for granted that an increase in the area available for grazing would restore a golden age of numerous cows and cheap milk. The Governor in Council agrees with Mr. Blackwood that, apart from the very serious difficulties involved in any scheme for converting arable land into pasture, it is improbable that such a policy would have the results which are generally expected from it : the cattle would perhaps increase in number, but they would soon become too numerous for the pasture to support. The facts observed in other parts of India do not warrant the conclusion that plentiful grazing and good cattle are necessarily found together : Mr. Blackwood has referred to Champaran district in Bihar where good grazing is plentiful and the cattle are said to be very inferior, and to Nasik in Bombay where there is no grazing and the cattle are splendid. Similarly the Report on the cattle survey in Assam shows, as already noted, that a country which contains extensive grazing may support very poor cattle. As regards bullocks, Mr. Blackwood remarks that prices have doubled within the last 10 years, but his report does not indicate that there is any general dissatisfaction with the quality of the animals available, or that people who can afford to buy superior cattle have any difficulty in obtaining imported cattle to suit them.

7. There are reported to be no professional breeders of cattle in Bengal, except to a limited extent in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Malda, and in view of the climatic conditions of Bengal it is unlikely that any example which might be set by Government at cattle farms owned by the State would result in the creation of an industry of cattle-breeding on a large scale. The lines on which an improvement of the cattle of the province seems to be attainable under existing conditions are the provision of superior bulls and the consequent abolition of the use of immature bulls, and the introduction of an improved system of cattle management, of which the most essential points are the provision of a sufficient quantity of milk to young calves, and an economical system of stall feeding by the development of fodder crops.

8. Mr. Blackwood's recommendations for attaining these objects are first the multiplication of farms like the Government farm which was opened at Rangpur in 1913, and second, the provision from these farms and from the Garo Hills of suitable bulls in selected areas, the bulls being kept in the immediate charge of panchayats under the general control of demonstrators of the Agricultural Department. He proposes to provide in these areas a sufficient number of bulls to make it practicable to insist on the castration of all the inferior bulls. Mr. Blackwood realises that his recommendations involve very large expenditure, but he suggests that if Government farms can be conducted at a profit, private enterprise may be tempted to establish similar farms; and as regards the provision and maintenance of bulls in selected areas he suggests that this is a proper object of expenditure for District Boards, and that if the experiment is successful private people may be induced to keep good bulls and may be able to charge fees for their use.

In his advice for the conduct of Government farms Mr. Blackwood lays stress on two points. First, he is strongly of opinion that the basis of work should be the indigenous cattle of the province; and that the best indigenous cows, as judged by their milk yield, should be selected and crossed with superior bulls of a nearly allied species. He lays particular stress on his advice that the animal produced must be one which the ordinary cultivator of Bengal will be prepared to use and to feed. Secondly, he advises that the farms should have dairying and the production of fodder and other crops as their objects as well as cattle-breeding, his main object being that the farms shall be paying concerns and thus capable of extensive multiplication. The Rangpur Cattle Farm was opened in 1913, and Mr. Blackwood, as Director of Agriculture, conducted it on these lines for a period of three years: the Governor in Council has recently reviewed the progress which has been made at the farm and has decided that too much has been attempted. While he appreciates the force of Mr. Blackwood's arguments against endeavouring to introduce foreign stock unsuitable for the climate and conditions of Bengal, he is impressed by the facts that the people in Bengal, who have the highest ideals about their plough-cattle, generally prefer imported animals, and that the indigenous bullocks are rarely suitable for heavy cart work. Therefore it appears doubtful whether any substantial advance will be made without improving the local breeds by crossing. Mr. Blackwood asserts that the ideal type must be an animal which the ordinary cultivator of Bengal will be prepared to use and feed: the Governor in Council accepts this view with the modification involved by substituting the word 'superior' for 'ordinary.' When the use of a superior plough is demonstrated before a large number of cultivators the majority will say that the results are very satisfactory but are of no use to them because their bullocks could not draw the plough, but there are generally a few among them who have superior cattle, to whom the demonstration is of practical interest: the Governor in Council considers that the ideal type should be an animal which will appeal to the latter class of cultivator and that the best chance of arousing in the average cultivator a desire to improve his stock lies in the demonstration of results obtained by his neighbour who has higher ideals.

The Governor in Council has therefore decided that work in the Rangpur Farm shall for the present be concentrated on experiment with the object of discovering the most suitable bull for crossing with indigenous cows, and that dairy farming must for the present be subsidiary to this object, while the demonstration of the financial success of mixed farming with a view to the multiplication of breeding farms must await the discovery of the bull which is most suitable for the country. With this object in view he has ordered that selected indigenous cows shall be used as the basis of the experiments and that there shall be two classes of bulls, local and imported, the latter being selected animals of the milking breed of Hansi cattle: there will thus be two distinct herds, the pure indigenous herd and the cross-bred herd. When the results obtained from either of these herds are found satisfactory the time will have come for schemes for multiplying the bulls on a large scale. As regards the milk produced on the farm the Governor in Council has given orders to ensure that the young calves shall not be deprived of a sufficient supply owing to a desire to show profits from dairying. Fodder will be grown on the farm for the use of the cattle and the study of questions relating to the improvement of fodder crops will be one of the primary objects of the farm.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 21st May 1917.

Summary.—During the week under report light to moderate rain was almost general throughout the Province, which favoured the growth of the bhadoi crops. Agricultural operations have also been greatly facilitated by the rainfall. Preparation of lands for winter rice has commenced. Sowing of autumn paddy and jute continues in Western Bengal but weeding is in progress in Eastern Bengal. The prospects of standing crops are good. In some places of the Dacca district, however, paddy plants are being damaged by insects called lonapok and pamari. Some injury is also being caused to paddy by insects in Appera. Cattle-disease is reported from eight districts. The average price of common rice for the Province remained stationary as compared with that of the previous week.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th June 1917, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel entering or passing along the Midnapore Canal, or its branch, the Naraingar Distributary, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on this line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

- (a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.
- (b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.
- (c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.
- (d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found under clauses (a), (b) and (c), is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along the said line of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the line of navigation for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which it is granted, and at the station from which it is issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	... One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats	... Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts	... Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

- (1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in the canal or its branch by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.
- (2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canal or its branch.
- (3) Exemption from payment of demurrage or tolls may be granted to vessels while waiting for cargo or for any other purpose at the places on the Midnapore Canal fixed by the Superintending Engineer for such purposes which include Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal, Panskura to Dainan. Such exemption will not extend over a period of more than three months in each case.

If the person in charge of any vessel, on the completion of a voyage or on entering the canal, wishes his vessel to remain in any of the free ghats in the line of navigation he shall give up his toll ticket at the nearest toll station, specifying the particular ghat where he wishes to keep his vessel and shall take out a fresh ticket from such toll station before leaving such ghat. On failure to comply with this provision he shall be liable to demurrage charge as provided in this rule, which shall be recoverable as toll.

- (4) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

(a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds—(from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

9. Vessels are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise at the Kayali ghats, Canal ghats above and below every lock, and all free ghats on the 6th Reach of the Canal—Panskura to Dainan; but they are allowed to be loaded and unloaded only at the Kayali ghats and the free ghats in the 6th Reach. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these rules, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

The places at which vessels can be ordinarily loaded or unloaded in any Reach of the line of navigation are notified at the locks in the Reach, and no vessel without the previous permission of the Toll Collector (who should without delay inform the Executive Engineer of his permission having been granted), can be allowed to load or unload at any other place. Should any vessel be loaded or unloaded at any place other than those notified and without the said permission having been obtained, the person in charge of the vessel and the consignor or consignee of the goods shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 for each offence.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows:—

Uhubaria.—Between the Uhubaria Lock and the Bauspati Khal.

Bansbaria.—Between the Bansbaria Lock and the Damodar river.

Kultapara.—Between the Kultapara Lock and the Damodar river.

Kantapukur.—Between the Kantapukur Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Dainan.—Between the Dainan Lock and the Rupnarayan river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura east Lock and the Cossye river.

Panskura.—Between the Panskura west Lock and the Cossye river.

Mohunpur.—Between the Mohunpur Lock and the Cossye river.

No boat will be allowed, under any circumstances, to drop an anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock entrance or in the canal, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; but straw boats of 20 feet width including overhangings (the overhangings beyond 19 feet being entirely straw) may be passed through the locks of the Main Canal; also no vessel exceeding 50 feet in length and 10½ feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Naraingar Distributary.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along the canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or the right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in the canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. No steamer passing any vessel must proceed at a greater speed than half speed.

17. Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her, "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and attendants.—Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. No towing rope of a greater length than 100 feet is to be used in the canal. The throwing of cinders into the canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation, or of a part of it, may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the "Canals Act," undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner prescribed in section 9 of the Act.

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred, any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of the abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours: provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the Act.

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in these rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canal and its branch may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency they may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

IN conformity with the scheme adopted in the United Kingdom, the Government of India prescribed in April 1916 certain forms for the registration of claims of British and British Indian subjects against enemy subjects and enemy Governments, and informed the public in a Press Communiqué, issued on the 27th of that month, that persons or firms desiring to register their claims should apply in the appropriate form to Custodians of Enemy Property, or, where no such officer is appointed, to the Local Government or Administration within whose jurisdiction they reside or carry on business. The Government of India regard it as important that the registration should be as complete as possible, and accordingly request that persons concerned will help in enabling Government to secure the object by putting forward their claims.

CANTONMENTS.

REGULATIONS.

No. 834.—In pursuance of section 26-A of the Cantonment Code, 1912, as subsequently amended, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules prescribing the conditions subject to which a Cantonment Authority may establish and maintain a Provident Fund :—

1. These rules may be called the Cantonment Provident Fund Rules, 1917.

2. In these rules unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context :—

- (a) "Salary" includes all fixed monthly allowances by way of pay or personal allowances, paid from Cantonment Funds, but does not include allowances granted to meet specific expenditure such as travelling, horse, conveyance or house rent allowances, whether daily, monthly or yearly ;
- (b) "Servant" includes every whole-time employee of, and holding a substantive office under, a Cantonment Authority, whether in receipt of a pension from Public Revenues or not, but does not include any servant who may be serving in a post which is pensionable from Public Revenues ;
- (c) "Depositor" means a servant on whose behalf a deposit is made under these rules ;
- (d) "Interest" means the interest which is paid on a deposit at a Government Savings Bank under the rules in force for such institutions.

Explanations.—An employee on probation in a substantive appointment will not be considered a servant for the purpose of these rules until he is confirmed, but on confirmation he may be allowed to subscribe to the fund with effect from the commencement of his probationary service.

3. Every servant appointed or promoted by the Cantonment Authority on or after the date from which these rules come into effect in the cantonment, to an office of which the salary is not less than Rs. 10 per mensem, shall be required to subscribe at the rate of 6½ per cent. or one anna in the rupee, on his salary, to a Provident Fund of which an account will be opened at the Post Office Savings Bank. A servant appointed or promoted previous to the coming into effect of these rules, to an office of which the salary is not less than Rs. 10 per mensem, may be permitted by the Cantonment Authority to subscribe to the fund. The deduction shall be made by the Cantonment Authority upon every salary bill presented, and shall be credited at once to the fund. In making this deduction fractions of a rupee of salary should be omitted.

At the time of the deposit each depositor shall furnish a certificate of heirship giving the name and address of the person or persons to whom he assigns his deposit in the case of his decease.

4. The Cantonment Authority shall make a contribution to the deposit account of each depositor, equal to one-half of the amount of the deduction made from his salary under the preceding rule. Such contribution shall be credited to the fund, month by month, in favour of such servant, together with the deduction from his salary. The contribution will be charged in the cantonment accounts to "10—Superannuation," sub-head "Provident Fund."

Provided that, in addition to the contribution made under this rule, the Cantonment Authority may, if it deems fit, make further contributions to be credited to the Provident Fund in favour of any servant as follows :—

After 10 years' approved service, 2 months' pay.

"	15	"	"	"	3	"
"	20	"	"	"	3	"
"	25	"	"	"	4	"
"	30	"	"	"	4	"

These bonuses are cumulative, that is, a servant who has received a bonus after serving 10 years may, after serving 15 years, receive a second bonus and so on. Though approved service may be reckoned as from the date of commencement of service, no application for a bonus shall be considered unless it is preferred within six months from the date at which the depositor becomes eligible for a bonus. Pay, for the purpose of this rule, means the pay of the applicant on that date.

Provided that, if a servant is transferred to the service of another cantonment maintaining a Provident Fund, his service in his original post shall count towards service for a bonus.

5. The sums credited monthly under rules 3 and 4 to the Provident Fund Ledger maintained by the Cantonment Authority shall be paid duly into the Post Office Savings Bank. Such payments should, whenever possible, be made into the Bank between the 1st and the 4th of each month, in order that interest may accrue, and the payment in respect of the further contribution shall be made as soon as possible after the Cantonment Authority has sanctioned the same. These deposits may be invested in Government Securities in accordance with rule 46 of the "Rules for the guidance of depositors in the Post Office Savings Bank" The deposits may also be invested in Government of India loans.

6. The deposits and contributions, with interest thereon, at the credit of any servant, may be withdrawn :—

- (1) on the decease of the depositor, when the amount shall be paid to his legal heirs ;
- (2) on his ceasing to be a servant of the Cantonment Authority either by resignation or by transfer to Government service, when the amount will be paid to him ;
- (3) on his being transferred to the employment of another Cantonment Authority, when the amount will be transferred by money order to the Secretary to the Cantonment Authority at his new station, for payment into the Post Office Savings Bank.

7. The sum at credit of a depositor is not liable to forfeiture on dismissal or on conviction by a Criminal Court, except for an offence for which the penalty of forfeiture of the whole of the offender's property is prescribed by law.

8. (i) Amounts credited or debited to the Provident Fund shall on the same day be posted in the Provident Fund Ledger. Separate pages of the account shall be set apart for each month's transaction.

(ii) The entries in column 7 will be made once a year only, except in the case provided by clause (v).

(iii) In column 14 will be entered the minimum balance at the credit of the account between the close of the 4th day and the end of the month.

(iv) When the Ledger has been completed with the monthly interest bearing balances (column 14), those balances will at once be carried to the broadsheet. At the close of the financial year the columns of the broadsheet shall be totalled. When any account is closed down during the year, the amount of interest which has been included in that account in accordance with clause (v) will also be carried to the appropriate place in the broadsheet. The amount of interest added by the Post Office in the Pass Book on the entire amount of the sums deposited during the year to the credit of the Cantonment Authority, less any amount already entered during the year under clause (v), shall be distributed among the individual accounts proportionately to the sums of each column (disregarding fractions of a rupee) of the broadsheet.

The "total of interest payable" should correspond with the amount of interest added by the Post Office.

(v) If any payment has to be made during the year on an individual deposit account under rule 6 or 13, interest shall be calculated on that account only as nearly as possible in accordance with the rules in force in the Post Office. The amount of interest calculated shall be entered in column 7 against the account concerned, before payment is made.

9. A copy of the account of each depositor shall be furnished to him as soon as possible after the close of the financial year to which the account relates, or at the time of payment in the case of accounts closed down in accordance with rule 5.

10. No voluntary deposit from servants will be credited to the Provident Fund.

11. Servants are not eligible to subscribe to the Provident Fund while absent on leave other than privilege leave. (See Article 811, Civil Service Regulations.)

12. On a depositor leaving the service, his account shall be closed, and unless the amount at his credit be withdrawn within a certain period, viz., for balances of Rs. 10 and under, one year, and for balances over Rs. 10, three years, it shall be written off as a dead account, and repaid only under the orders of the Officer Commanding the Division.

13. When an account becomes dead, it shall be closed in the Provident Fund Ledger, the money being drawn out of the Savings Bank and credited in the cash book (Form 7, Schedule I, Cantonment Code, 1912) as a miscellaneous receipt. If the amount is subsequently claimed the entries in the cash book and the Provident Fund Ledger shall first be made before the orders of the Officer Commanding the Division are requested and when repayment is made, the fact of payment and a reference to the order shall be made against the entry in each account book, to avoid a double payment.

14. Where a Provident Fund has been established on behalf of any servant under executive arrangements prior to the date of introduction of these rules, the amount at credit of the said servant may be brought forward to his credit in the accounts maintained under these rules.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.NOTIFICATION.Post-graduate Research Scholarships to be awarded in 1917.*

POST-GRADUATE Scholarships will be awarded for the encouragement of original research to candidates who have high and special qualifications and who appear to be likely to conduct original research with success. The value of each scholarship is Rs. 100 a month, and each is tenable for a maximum period of three years.

2. Ordinarily one scholarship will be awarded annually to a student who proposes to carry on original research in scientific subjects, including such branches as natural and physical science, chemistry, mathematical science, etc., and another scholarship will similarly be awarded for research in literary subjects, including such branches as languages, comparative philology, palaeography, epigraphy, philosophy, history, archaeology, anthropology, etc., and the remaining will be awarded for research either in a literary or in scientific subjects. No application for a scholarship for research in a literary subject will be considered unless a candidate submits certificates showing that he has the capacity for undertaking the research proposed and a programme indicating a definite course of inquiry.

3. Election will be made in the first instance for one year only with effect from 1st July 1917, but a scholarship may be renewed from year to year, up to the limit of three years, provided the candidate has throughout the year vigorously prosecuted original research in the subject which he selected.

4. Each candidate for a scholarship must submit his application, through the head of the institution in which he read last, to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, on or before 15th June 1917, and must produce evidence of having passed from a Bengal college the M. A. examination of the Calcutta University, or of having obtained some other equivalent or higher degree, such as that of Doctor in Medicine, or Doctor in Law, or Doctor in Science, or Master in Engineering of the Calcutta University in 1914 or 1915 or 1916. He must state as definitely as possible the subject or part of a subject in which he intends, if elected to a scholarship, to carry on his original investigations. He must also indicate the institution in which he proposes to work, with evidence that the authorities of the institution are able and willing to provide facilities for him, or, if no institution is mentioned, the circumstances or conditions under which he proposes to work should be stated.

5. Applications for this year's scholarships should be submitted in prescribed forms, which are obtainable from the Personal Assistant to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN AND OF THE GARDENS IN CALCUTTA AND OF THE LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING FOR 1916-17.

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN.

1. General.—The weather during the past year has been on the whole abnormal. April and May were exceedingly hot and dry and the rains were scanty until early in August when they became copious and were prolonged till the middle of November. The germination of cold weather annual seeds was not attempted until there was evidence of normal weather conditions setting in and in consequence, the seedlings suffered much less from damping off than was usual in gardens in the Presidency, the subsequent display of flowers being profuse. The abnormal weather did not detrimentally affect the Orchids.

A cyclone passed over the Calcutta district on the 21st September and, in common with other gardens and parks in its course, the Sibpur gardens suffered much material damage. Nearly four hundred trees and shrubs were uprooted. This number, however, does not anything like represent the actual loss incurred. The effects of the cyclone are still seen in the dying off of trees which have been loosened at the roots and many, which at first seemed to escape the full force of the blast, will have to be removed. An analysis of the destruction shows that Casuarinas, Sissoos, Sterculias, Araucarias and Mahoganies were most affected while Debdars suffered least in proportion to the number of these in the garden. Several of the trees were magnificent specimens of their kind and are a great loss to the collection. The necessary cutting up and removing of fallen trees has interfered somewhat with routine work but, considering the exceptional call on the Curator and his staff, garden work is now well forward.

The revetting of the river bank mentioned in previous annual reports has been continued and two sections where erosion had gone on to such an extent as to threaten the river bank avenue have been dealt with. This work continues to be a heavy tax on garden labour and finances.

The re-making of the garden roads proceeds as time and labour permit. During the year the Kyd Avenue, leading from the College Gate towards the centre of the garden, has been thoroughly overhauled for a distance of about 500 yards.

The Economic Garden referred to in the reports of the last two years has been completed so far as the preparation of the ground is concerned. Economic plants cultivated during the year include Hyoscyamus niger, Chenopodium ambrosioides and several varieties of "Tulsi".

The Curator held the annual class in Arboriculture and continued to give advice to the Corporation of Calcutta regarding street trees.

Owing to the prolonged cold weather and the ferry steamers calling at the Gardens Ghât an increased number of Calcutta people have visited the gardens.

2. Plant and seed exchange and distribution.—About 65,000 plants were distributed and 3,300 received during the year. Of the former 22,576 were roadside trees distributed to District Boards and the Public Works Department. Some 650 went to New Delhi and 2,937 to the Government of Bihar and Orissa for Bankipore and Ranchi. Some 969 packets of seeds were distributed including 80 lbs. sent to the Arboricultural expert for New Delhi. Packets 187 of seeds were received exclusive of the supply of two barrels of Mahogany from the Royal Gardens, Kew, and six bags of palm seed from Mr. Lister of Pashok.

3. Herbarium and library.—The reduced staff has not been able to cope with all the collections received during the year, and a considerable mass of material remains untouched. This is unfortunate, for casual collectors, some of whom turn out useful helpers, are apt to be lost when not promptly supplied with identifications of the material in which they are immediately interested. Nevertheless much useful work has been done. The number of specimens received has been up to the annual average, the same collectors as in past years continuing to supply the material. Between 2,000—3,000 sheets have been distributed mainly to Indian Herbaria, and numerous sheets will be sent abroad when export facilities are available and the seas more secure. With the exception of a short tour in Tipperah undertaken by Mr. Barman at his own expense there has been no active exploration work undertaken by the staff during the year. The Curator of the Herbarium attended the Indian Science Congress which met at Bangalore in January 1917 to read a paper on "Oxalis Introductions to India." This paper will be published in the Records of the Botanical Survey in due course.

Library work has gone on as usual, 289 books being received of which 205 were in exchange and 84 purchased.

4. Publications.—No purely garden publications have been issued during the year.

5. Financial.—Sums collected and paid into the Bank of Bengal as Garden revenue amounted to Rs. 580-9. There has been a total saving of Rs. 13,942-3-10 under salaries and establishment, contingencies, etc.

CALCUTTA GARDENS.

Work in these gardens was mostly of a routine character. In common with other gardens in the district they suffered considerably from the September cyclone, a catastrophe which threw much additional work on the staff, coming as it did just in the season when cold weather seeds are sown and flower beds prepared. In consequence the flower beds were filled only with difficulty and the display of flowers retarded.

The scheme for replacing the present insanitary and insufficient accommodation for the labour force by properly built lines is still under the consideration of Government.

LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING.

The rainfall for the year was 135·77 inches or in excess. All the excess fell during the monsoon period. The cold weather was drier and less dull than usual. The winter as a whole was a bad one for horticulture, but some species of plants benefited and the display of flowering shrubs in early spring was very profuse.

Routine work was carried on as usual, handicapped to some extent by the dearness and scarcity of materials and by the non-arrival of a portion of the seeds and bulbs indented for. The collections of plants both in pots and in permanent quarters were maintained in good order and some 404 species previously unrepresented in the collections were planted out. Owing to fewer species of exotic plants being available special efforts were made to procure and plant in the indigenous division species not already there. Until a species has been tried under various conditions in the garden it cannot be certainly known if it will or will not live or thrive there. Its natural habitat gives no sure indication in the matter of elevation though it is usually reliable as regards exposure. The question of sites and exposures has been experimentally tested during the year and though opportunities for this are limited in the garden itself, other places under the Curator's charge are available for experimental purposes. Mr. G. H. Cave, who has been in charge as Curator throughout the year, deserves great credit both for the energy which keeps routine work going and the garden in good condition and for the resource he displays in tackling new horticultural problems.

About 11,510 plants, 5,173 dozen seedlings, 908 bulbs and tubers and 4,172 packets of seeds figure in the year's distribution list.

The gate tally showing 16,205 European and 35,730 Indian visitors proves the continued popularity of the garden as a public resort.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 28th May 1917.

Summary.—During the week under review light to moderate rain fell nearly all over the province benefiting standing crops and helping field operations generally. Sowings of jute and autumn paddy are nearing completion; weeding is proceeding. Ploughing of fields for winter rice is in full swing. Sowings for seedlings have also commenced in places. Standing crops are being slightly damaged in parts of the Howrah, Dacca and Tippera districts by insects. The prospects on the whole are, however, good. Cattle-disease exists in ten districts. The average price of common rice for the province again remained stationary with a slight tendency to rise.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade of the Calcutta Block* in certain selected articles during the months of April, 1916, to March, 1917, by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road, and sea. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

General Summary.

Imports.—The imports of rice including paddy† into Calcutta by rail, river, canal, road, and sea (coastwise)* during April, 1916, to March, 1917, amounted to 17,153,000 maunds as against 22,660,000 maunds in the corresponding period of the preceding year—a decline of 24 per cent. There was a slight increase in the imports of coal and coke (110,651,000 maunds as against 107,476,000 maunds last year). The imports by rail and river of Indian cotton piece-goods showed a considerable improvement, the total value amounting to Rs. 3,65,51,000 as against Rs. 2,24,43,000 in 1915-16. The quantity of indigo imported during the twelve months ending March, 1917, rose by 50 per cent (33,000 maunds as against 22,000 maunds last year), owing to larger supplies having been received mainly from the United Provinces and Bihar and Orissa. Imports of raw jute amounted to 5,375,000 bales as against 6,209,000 bales—a fall of 13 per cent, while the importations of gunny-bags showed a large increase—438 million bags as against 348 millions in the preceding year. The total imports of oilseeds (linseed and rape and mustard seed) rose by 13 per cent (6,967,000 maunds as against 6,157,000 maunds), and those of sugar by 3 per cent (677,000 maunds as against 655,000 maunds). There was a decrease in the imports of tea (3,049,000 maunds as against 3,377,000 maunds).

Exports.—The exports of cotton piece-goods, foreign, from Calcutta by all routes during April, 1916, to March, 1917, increased by 11 per cent (Rs. 20,65,04,000 as against Rs. 18,55,56,000 last year).
